

Fishermen Battling Storm to Seize Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — An audacious band of Grand Bank fishermen watched the rescue of all 16 persons aboard the stricken Dutch freighter Ocean Sprinter Friday, then braved North Atlantic wind and wave to seize the derelict as a prize of the sea.

The 312-ton trawler, Zebrinney, put men aboard the Ocean Sprinter and took her briefly in tow. But the line broke and the freighter, without lights, drifted afloat through the blackness of the ocean night.

"We are waiting until morning and will put a line aboard again at dawn if the weather permits," the Zebrinney's skipper, Capt. James Chayter, told The Associated Press by radio telephone.

"Do you consider her a salvage prize?" he was asked.

"Yes," Chayter replied. "We only hope to God we get her in."

The drama of the little trawler boldly seeking to make captive a ship four times her size overshadowed the rescue of 15 men and one woman from the Ocean Sprinter after three days at the mercy of the cruel sea.

The tug Clyde was en route to the scene 245 miles off Newfoundland, commissioned to salvage the freighter. Capt. Chayter was asked if he would make way for the Clyde upon her arrival, or whether he would seek to retain his prize.

"If we get a towline on her," he replied, "under no circumstances would we give the tow line up."

The Zebrinney is a 142-foot trawler out of St. John's, Newfoundland. She has 14 men aboard.

"We have been out eight days," Chayter said, "and we are heavy with fish. We have got to land by Monday because of our catch. If we can't get men aboard the Ocean Sprinter tomorrow because of the weather, we might possibly be leaving."

Chayter said the U.S. Coast Guard asked him to stand by after one of its cutters and a lifeboat smashed during the rescue of the Ocean Sprinter's crew.

"We were more maneuverable," Chayter explained. "We would have had no difficulty in aiding the Ocean Sprinter. We had one of our boats alongside her for one and one-half hours in the afternoon. It was good dory weather."

However, all survivors were taken aboard the Coast Guard cutter, climaxing a chain of ill-fortune that plagued the Ocean Sprinter ever since she set out on a transatlantic voyage eight days ago from Prince Edward Island, a Canadian province in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

True to tradition, the last to leave the slippery, slanting decks of the 239-foot Ocean Sprinter was her captain, A. Sollefeld.

With three of his crew-men, the captain delayed his departure for nearly three hours, vainly awaiting the Clyde. He refused the offer of a tow from the rescue vessel, the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Abasco.

Once abandoned, the Ocean Sprinter became the prize of any vessel reaching her, first. Although her holds were flooded and she listed 20 degrees to port, she remained afloat.

The freighter is owned by the Atlafish Co. of Madrid, Spain, and operated by Schoepvaart-Maats Vries Express of Groningen, The Netherlands. Her home port is Rotterdam.

Not until the Abasco's three-stage rescue operation was under way did it become known that there was a woman aboard the Ocean Sprinter. Her identity was unavailable.

The Coast Guard was unable to say whether the crew left the Ocean Sprinter.

What Things Do!
Action Line

ACTION LINE is your service, solving your problems, getting your answers, cutting red tape and standing up for your rights. To get them, write ACTION LINE, Box 230, Long Beach, Calif. 90801, or dial 432-3451 between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m., or 5 p.m. and 9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Questions to be answered are selected for their general interest and helpfulness.

Peachy

Q. Several years ago the people of Long Beach donated flowering fruit trees to beautify a local college campus. Can ACTION LINE tell me what kind of trees and how many were donated, and to which college? When will they be in bloom? P.G., Long Beach.

A. In January 1965 more than 2,000 Helen Borchert flowering peach trees were planted on the campus of California State College at Long Beach. The trees, costing $5 apiece, were donated by citizens of Long Beach as part of a city beautification program, according to Barbara Kenneke, assistant manager of the college's news bureau. The trees, which will reach a height of 15 feet, are evenly distributed throughout the campus and can be seen at their blooming best during the month of April.

Care for Carr

Q. Could you give me some biographical information on singer Vikki Carr? This would help to settle an argument. B.A.S., Artesia.

A. Vikki Carr was born Florencia Bisenta de Casillas Martinez Cardona, the eldest of seven children, in El Paso, Tex. The name of her patron saint, Bisenta, was translated to Vikki, the Cardona telescoped to Carr. Growing up in Rosemead, Calif., Miss Carr was a sandlot tomboy playing ball with her brothers, and also was her family's favorite entertainer. She made her public debut at 4, singing in a Christmas program. Very proud of her Mexican-American heritage, Miss Carr was recently honored by the Mexican-American Council of California as the "Outstanding Entertainer of the Year."

Clipped

Q. Could you tell me where to get a regular necktie converted into a clip tie? Mrs. B.T., Lakewood.

A. Your husband's tie can wear the clipped look if you turn it over to Eddie or Ernie Gutierrez, co-owners of Unique Tailoring, 5255 Paramount, Lakewood, 531-7787. They say they have never had a call for this operation before, but can handle the job.

Canadian Caper

Q. What are the laws regarding the length of time a Canadian may live outside Canada without losing his Canadian citizenship? And what happens to U.S. property purchased by Canadian citizens in the event of their death? R.M.D., Downey.

A. A spokesman for the Canadian consul general told ACTION LINE a Canadian may live outside his country as long as he pleases and still retain his citizenship. He is not required to return to Canada at regular intervals. He will lose his citizenship only if he votes or applies for citizenship in another country. A Canadian citizen is perfectly free to buy and sell property in the United States. He may will the property to any heirs he chooses, even if they are Canadian citizens still residing in Canada.

REACTION

I am no nutcracker but I can give Mrs. C.S. a tip which I've found usually works. Take the walnut in one hand and a small kitchen knife in the other. Insert the knife in the crack of the shell as far as you can and give it a twist. This will crack the shell in half after which the nut meat will come out easily. It's not foolproof but it works very well. A.H.P., Lakewood.

In response to Mrs. C.S., I have a suggestion. If she would crack the nut by holding the seams in her fingers and cracking it with the small end at the top, then turning it around and cracking the large end, she should get perfect halves almost every time. But you must hit it gently — too hard breaks the halves. It took me many years of cracking nuts before I discovered this. Mrs. M.T., Buena Park.

I have an excellent nutcracker. It breaks up only about 25 per cent of the nut meats, leaving the remaining 75 per cent full, unbroken halves. I've had this nutcracker for years and I don't remember now where I bought it. It bears the inscription: "Miller, Austin, Tex., Pat. Nov. 5, 1912." Perhaps a letter to the Austin Chamber of Commerce might disclose the manufacturer's address. M.K.G., Long Beach.

On your Sound Off about why people walk on the white line in crosswalks, I do because the inside of the crosswalks is very rough and hard to walk on — the pebbles feel like spikes through the thin soles on women's shoes. The city would be doing a good deed if it would repave the crosswalks and make them smooth. Mrs. H.R.R., Long Beach, and others.

Heart Patient Critical

Stanford Man
Operated On Twice in Day

PALO ALTO (UPI) — Mike Kasperak, the U.S. heart transplant patient, was in "extremely critical" condition Friday night, with doctors fearing infection after his second major operation in 24 hours.

Surgeons removed Kasperak's spleen and repaired a stomach ulcer in a 2½-hour operation Friday afternoon to stop heavy internal bleeding.

An 8 p.m. medical bulletin said doctors "are becoming concerned about the possibility of infection influencing his present course." They said his blood pressure at that time was stable and "there are no signs of further bleeding."

The new complications developed on the 14th day after Kasperak received the heart transplant.

Previous operations in the last five days involved removal of his gallbladder and surgery for multiple abdominal ulcerations. Surgery also was required Friday because of internal bleeding.

"Kasperak's heart function continues to be normal but doctors emphasized his condition is extremely critical," said a spokesman at the Palo Alto-Stanford Medical Center.

"The splenectomy, the removal of the patient's spleen, was performed to head off a decrease of platelets in the blood and to prevent further bleeding."

"The spleen, one of the organs in the abdominal cavity located just below the diaphragm on the left side, functions as a storage place for red blood cells, feeding them to the bloodstream as the body requires and destroying blood cells when they reach the end of their life span."

In the absence of the spleen, the spokesman said, the bone marrow takes over the functions of that organ.

$3 Million Provided for Watts Loans

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bank in south-central Los Angeles is the recipient of $3 million from the country's insurance industry for home loans to persons in that predominantly Negro area, the Prudential Life Insurance Co. said Friday.

The president of the three-year-old bank receiving the money termed the loan funds "a wonderful thing for the community."

"This is something the community has needed desperately," said Nivelle Beaubien, president of the Bank of Finance. He said that loan money has been very limited in the area where the 1965 rioting occurred.

The money came from a $1-billion fund pledged by insurance industry officials to President Johnson last September.

Crash Kills Student Pilot, Dog

A 46-year-old student pilot flying with his small dog as passenger was killed Friday when his single-engine plane smashed into a field in Westminster.

Motorists near Bolsa Avenue and Hoover Street who witnessed the 2 p.m. crash pulled Everett Leonard Kranz, 46, of 7772 21st St., Westminster, from the crumpled craft.

They found the dog's body inside.

WITNESSES said the plane, which came down several blocks from any homes, had been flying about 100 feet off the ground when it banked to the left, nosed down and crashed.

Sgt. Frank Sano, Westminster Police Department, said the plane's left wing and nose struck the ground at the same time.

Kranz was rushed to Westminster Hospital, but was dead on arrival.

72,000 More in '68 Draft Than in '67

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense officials predicted Friday the United States will draft 72,000 more men this year than in 1967.

This increase to an expected 302,000 total reflects the large numbers of men who were drafted during the Southeast Asia buildup of 1966 and will be leaving service this year.

About 230,000 men, or an average of about 19,100 a month, were called to duty last year. This year's average will reach around 25,100, although the March draft call already has been set at 39,000.

Beyond 1968, manpower needs are expected to decline, officials said.

rushed to St. Nicholas Ukrainian Catholic Cathedral on the near northwest side to stamp out molotovs in the rectory and outside the church.

They arrested four adults and one juvenile. Two of the adults were charged with battery, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. The other two were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

The Rev. Thomas Glynn, his cassock smeared with blood, was treated at St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital for bruises on his face and various other parts of his body.

Father Glynn and the Rev. William Bilinsky, an assistant pastor, told police that Father Glynn was beaten by seven protesters who broke through a locked door of the rectory and invaded the second floor living quarters.

FATHER Bilinsky said he was pinned to the floor and a pitcher of water was thrown into his face when he picked up a telephone to call for help.

Father Bilinsky told police the demonstration started when 350 parishioners at the 8 a.m. Mass noted that the ceremony would contain none of the traditional rituals associated with the Feast of the Epiphany.

Friday marked the first day of the feast under the old, or Julian calendar. Under a change to the Gregorian calendar, put into effect 3½ years ago, all feast days were set back 13 days.

Unruh Stresses 'Semantics'

BERKELEY (UPI) — University of California regents Friday delayed action on raising student fees after debating that subject, finances and support for new university president Charles Hitch.

The Regents' Special Committee, appointed last August, submitted a plan for a $158 increase in student fees. Two state assemblymen proposed alternative plans, and the regents unanimously decided to put off the matter until their February meeting in Riverside.

Regent Fred Dutton, of Sausalito, after the committee report had been read, enumerated his objections as a minority member of the committee.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER Jesse Unruh, D-Inglewood, left the meeting at this point, saying he would "probably go into the semantics of 'tuition' versus 'charges.' I think that is one thing they should face up to."

Unruh has opposed imposition of a tuition ever since it was proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan a year ago. In August, the regents attempted to resolve the issue by calling the new fee a "charge."

Hitch had asked the regents to change a portion of a provision in California policy saying "These regulations may be amended by the president, subject to concurrence by the regents in any amendment involving major changes in policy."

The university president said he had responsibility for student conduct and asked to be allowed to

Sgt. John L. Wolfe and two of his motherless sons pulled away from the Columbus Air Force base at Columbus, Miss., Friday on the start of a journey which eventually will have them separated by half the world. Wolfe will leave Ralph 4, and George, 5, with their grandparents Mrs. and Mrs. R. H. Wolfe in Valley Station, Ky., and his three older children will live in a Kentucky orphanage while their father travels on. The Air Force has reassigned Wolfe, a dog handler supervisor, to Vietnam. Wolfe had the opportunity of taking a hardship discharge rather than accept the Vietnam assignment. But, as he had when his wife died 22 months ago, the sergeant said he'd see things through in the service where he has spent 13 years of his life.

His plight brought hundreds of offers to take care of one, two, three or all of the children while he is overseas. "Some people offered to adopt them," the 35-year-old sergeant said. "Some even offered to adopt me." But Wolfe said he thought his decision was best for all. Wanda, 10; David, 9; and Jonathan, 7, will stay in the Spring Meadows Children's Home at Middletown, Ky., which is close to his parents' home and all the children will be able to see each other while he's gone. But the calls of help kept coming in right up to the time his telephone was disconnected in his base quarters. "A Navy veteran woke me at 5 a.m. Friday," Wolfe said. "He said he was just going to bed there (in Hawaii) and just read my story in the evening paper and wanted to help. He said that among the calls of help he has received was one from a just retired Air Force veteran who offered to return to Vietnam in Wolfe's place."

SAFE STREETS

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Friday it would be four or five years before President Johnson's safe streets bill would be of any substantial help in halting spiraling crime and lawlessness. McClellan said Johnson's proposal has considerable merit but is inadequate standing alone. It must be broadened to permit law enforcement officers to gather evidence by wiretaps and other electronic eavesdropping and to halt the release of confessed criminals, McClellan told the Senate. "Mounting crime — murder, rape, robbery, theft, rioting, and civil disobedience — has reached a level and momentum that borders on open rebellion and insurrection and is the most critical internal danger confronting the nation," he said.

BAMBI PRIZES

Richard Burton, Elizabeth Taylor, Rock Hudson and Sophia Loren were awarded Bambi prizes Friday night in Munich as the foreign film stars most popular among German audiences. Burton and Miss Taylor were on hand to receive the prizes, which were voted by the readers of two West German magazines. Senta Berger and Heinz Rühmann received Bambis as the most popular German stars.

FRED M. ESHERICK

The youngest Ohioan ever condemned to death, Fred M. Esherick Jr., 18, was delivered to the Ohio penitentiary Friday. He is scheduled for the electric chair May 15 in the fatal bayonet stabbing of his father. The jury did not recommend mercy in the first degree murder case which made the death sentence mandatory. His mother testified against him.

IN PRINCIPAL'S HAIR

Three boys at Cleveland High School in Portland, Ore., got their hair cut skinhead style after protests by school officials and their parents about their long hair. Principal Clifford Skinner (left) said the new haircuts disrupted class and he sent them home for three days. He let them back Thursday after measuring hair of (left to right) Less Ferris, 18; Gayland Jones, 17; and Gary Perkins, 16.

OFFICER KILLED

The Metcalf State Bank of Overland, Kan., was robbed of an undetermined amount of money by two men Friday moments after the city hall-police station was bombed. Shortly afterward a state highway patrolman identified as Sgt. Eldon Miller of Kansas City, Kan., was killed, and a man suspected of participating in the robbery was shot in the stomach and captured. The shooting occurred when police surrounded an apartment building in which two men suspected of staging the holdup took refuge. Overland Park is a Kansas City suburb.

WINGS

Air Force Maj. William J. (Pete) Knight, who set the world's speed record for winged aircraft in the rocketship X15, Friday was awarded senior astronaut wings at Edwards Air Force Base. Col. Charles (Chuck) Yeager, the first man to fly faster than the speed of sound, was on hand to congratulate Knight. The presentation of astronaut wings was made by Maj. Gen. Hugh B. Manson, commander of this flight test center.

STRICKEN

Sen. John O. Pastore, (D-R.I.), chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, was admitted to Bethesda Naval Hospital Thursday after suffering a heart attack, his office said Friday night. There have been no complications and his progress is satisfactory, an aide quoted the senator's doctor as saying.

MOVES THUMB

A 26-year-old printer, who led the personnel of a Ridgefield, N.J. hospital operating room in prayer before surgery on himself, was in critical condition Friday after restoration of his completely severed right hand. Doctors said it would not be known for two days whether the operation on Edward McKee of Frijolawn would be successful. Spiros Zodiatis, president of the American Mission to Greeks, a philanthropic group for which McKee works, said he visited McKee Friday and that he "moved his thumb." McKee was using paper-cutting equipment Thursday in the basement of the mission building in Ridgefield, when he severed his hand.

WAYNE TO FIGHT

Actor John Wayne will contest in court an Internal Revenue Service claim that he owes $250,479 in back taxes, according to IRS reports filed Friday in Washington. Wayne and his wife, Pilar, were notified by revenue commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen of alleged deficiencies stemming from returns for 1961-63. No criminal charges or penalties were added. In answering the notification, Wayne's attorneys requested hearings be held in Federal Tax Court in Los Angeles. No date has been set for the hearings.

'UNDERDOG'

Michigan Gov. Romney said Friday in Washington he has started "closing the gap" in his underdog campaign against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for New Hampshire's presidential primary.

NICKLES, DIMES

Coeds at some colleges regularly dip into their cigarette and movie money for nickels, dimes and quarters to help underwrite illegal abortions for friends and schoolmates who become pregnant, four students said Friday. Four coeds appeared at a news conference and told about informal campus "slush funds" to raise the $500 to $1,000 needed for an illegal abortion in New York City. The news conference was called by William Baird, director of the Parents Aid Society, a crusader who seeks to legalize abortion in any case where the pregnant woman wants one. He said he would lead a march of coeds on the state capitol in Albany when the current legislature takes up a measure that would rescind some of the state's ancient statutes.

TOO SMART

Everett Jackson's best buddy said in Miami the former U.S. paratrooper bought an old airplane and flew to Communist Cuba because of insatiable curiosity and desire for adventure — not to overthrow Fidel Castro. "He's too smart to try anything like assassination or revolution by himself," his friend said. Havana radio announced Wednesday that Jackson, 27-year-old former Long Beach man who has lived in Miami the past two years, was shot down over Cuba Dec. 29 after parachuting a sack containing a carbine, ammunition, maps and a camera.

Fierce Fighting Along DMZ Zone

Combined News Services

SAIGON — Fierce fighting broke out for the second consecutive day Friday along the demilitarized zone, where U.S. forces are tensed for an expected Communist offensive. New and heavy clashes were reported in other critical areas of South Vietnam. An enemy force of unknown size pinned down a U.S. Marine force for about six hours just below the northern frontier. The U.S. Command said the Marines broke out and killed 23 Communists. In troublesome Dinh Tuong Province in the Mekong Delta, a strong Viet Cong force attacked a battalion of South Vietnamese marines early Saturday. Elsewhere in South Vietnam Communist forces launched a rocket attack on U.S. facilities at Pleiku in the central highlands and a mortar assault on a base camp near Cu Chi, northwest of Saigon.

U.S. rescue teams reached the wreckage Friday of a giant Marine helicopter that crashed Jan. 8 near the demilitarized zone with 41 persons aboard and reported all were dead, U.S. headquarters announced. Twelve North Vietnamese battalions are pursuing 2,000 Lao government troops fleeing from Nambac in Northern Laos. The retreat appears to be degenerating into a rout, qualified official sources said Friday in Vientiane. However, the Lao army units were trying to establish a new line of defense. Sources say the Lao army, which had close to 5,000 men in the Nambac area instead of 3,200 as previously reported, may have taken 20 per cent casualties in continuing actions in the high, bamboo-studded mountains around Nambac. The U.S. Command in Saigon said an unidentified jet aircraft raided the American special forces camp at Lang Vei in the Northwest corner of South Vietnam Friday.

In Washington defense sources Friday discounted reports that Russia has supplied Hanoi with a surface-to-surface missile which could threaten U.S. ships patrolling the North Vietnamese coast.

Riots in Hong Kong

HONG KONG — Riot squads and a crowd of 300 Communists fought a pitched battle Friday outside a police station on the Hong Kong waterfront in the worst outbreak of violence in the crown colony in weeks. The rioters tried to storm into the police station and hurled rocks and bottles at colonial police who opened up with shotguns firing wooden pellets and tear gas bombs.

$25 Million to Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — The United States Friday released $25 million of a $100-million loan to Brazil negotiated in 1967 to finance imports and to purchase American commodities to be sold on the Brazilian market.

Russ-Colombia Ties

UNITED NATIONS — Colombia and the Soviet Union re-established diplomatic relations Friday in a simple ceremony at the U.N. The agreement brought to six the number of Latin American countries holding relations with Moscow.

Royal Wedding

ROME — The Greek royal household announced Friday that Queen Anne-Marie and her two children would leave Italy next Wednesday to attend the wedding of her sister, Princess Benedikte in Denmark. King Constantine will also attend the Feb. 3 wedding, but will join his wife at a later date. His trip will be the first outside Italy since he flew here last Dec. 14 from Greece upon the failure of his counter-coup. Constantine said Friday might he will return to his troubled land only when its ruling military junta has given it a democratic constitution.

Guatemala Quiet

GUATEMALA — President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro claimed Friday his government has "complete control in the entire nation" following a wave of terrorist slayings that included the machine-gun murder of two U.S. officers. The statement came from the president's office during an all-day cabinet meeting.

More Treaty Talks

GENEVA — The new U.S.-Soviet draft treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons should be ready for worldwide signing by late spring or early summer, officials predicted Friday. Until then more negotiating will be necessary to allay the fears of the nonnuclear nations who believe the draft is weighted in favor of the big powers who wrote it.

'Little Heart' Dies

PALERMO, Sicily — The 7-year-old girl who was found alive after 50 hours under the rubble of her quake-destroyed home died Friday night at a Palermo hospital. Doctors had predicted the curly haired child — nicknamed "Curiccedda", Little Heart — would survive. But her condition from injuries and exposure worsened during the day. Her mother was at her side when she died.

Doves and Hawks Hail Clifford

Combined News Services

WASHINGTON — Powerful members of Congress greeted President Johnson's selection of Washington lawyer Clark Clifford, 61, as Secretary of Defense with enthusiasm. Vietnam Dove Sen. J. William Fulbright was the cheerleader. "He will make an excellent Defense Secretary and he will be capable of reevaluating policies," the Arkansas Democrat said. "It is an outstanding appointment. I didn't know he'd accept it." Hawks also applauded. Chairman Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, said: "I believe the President has made a very wise choice. I've known Clark Clifford for many years and I'm confident that the defense of the nation will be in good hands." Chairman Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee called Clifford "an excellent choice." Even most Republicans who expressed opinion were pleased. Sen. Margaret Smith, R-Maine, ranking GOP member of the Armed Services Committee, said, "Mr. Clifford has an excellent reputation. The important thing is working with the President and the Congress and I am confident that he can." Another committee member, Sen. Tower, R-Tex., said: "Although Mr. Clifford has been an advisor to several presidents, this still is a surprising appointment. I had rather expected Mr. Cyrus Vance or one of the current Defense Department officials who is up to date on our defense posture and needs would be named." McNamara will become president of the World Bank and will be out of the Defense Department no later than March 1.

Texas-Size Floods

SAN ANTONIO — South Texas was swamped Friday with the worst flooding since hurricane Beulah as the Atascosa, Nueces, Frio and San Antonio rivers all surged out of their banks. The streams were expected to be from six to 14 feet above flood stage by late today. More than eight inches of rain drenched Freeport between midnight and mid-afternoon Friday. Heavy rains fell Friday on the heels of the six-inch deluge that fell Thursday, drowning four persons and causing an estimated $3 million in property damage.

Millions of Clams

ATLANTIC CITY — Bulldozers, tractors and trucks worked from sunrise to sunset Friday to remove millions of dead clams from a 22-mile stretch of southern New Jersey beaches. Strong underwater currents caused by churning northeast seas and high tides uprooted the clams from their beds several miles offshore and washed them ashore earlier this week. A new batch washed ashore early Friday. The crews hope to complete the mammoth task today. In some spots the clams were piled as high as two feet. "There are acres of them out there for as far as the eye can see," said one worker.

Asked but Didn't Get

WASHINGTON — The Army acknowledged Friday a military unit here violated regulations by asking liquor lobbyists and wholesalers to donate 372 fifths of liquor for a charity ball. An Army statement said the solicitations were withdrawn as soon as they came to the attention of the Military District of Washington headquarters. No donations were received, it added.

Heart Bank Planned

PITTSBURGH — The Western Pennsylvania Heart Association announced Friday it is going to start a heart bank for transplants. It would be the first of its kind.

Power of State Faces Academy in 'Beard' Inquiry

By MOLLY BURRELL

"The Beard," academic freedom, and the scope of legislative control over state college activities were discussed and criticized at a special State Senate inquiry Friday in Fullerton.

The investigation continues today in the city hall.

The inquiry, authorized by the Senate and conducted by Sen. James Whetmore, R-La Habra, included testimony from State College Chancellor Glenn Dumke, President William Langsdorf of California State College at Fullerton and 18 other witnesses.

At issue were:

- The value and propriety of the production in the Cal State Fullerton advanced class in play direction.
- Possible disciplinary action against those responsible for the production.
- The need for advisability of legislative action to regulate study and inquiry on the campus.

Regents Delay on the 'Fee'

change policy without waiting for regent approval.

THE REGENTS split on the issue, some saying they wanted to keep the language and others suggesting they not turn down their new president on his first request at his first regents' meeting. Again, they postponed action until next month.

Twenty-three of the 24 regents were present with only Samuel Mosher of Santa Barbara absent.

The Student Fund Committee report would change the name of the present "student incidental fee" to the "university registration fee." The fees would be increased by $52 per quarter in the spring, fall and winter quarters and $2 for the summer quarter.

Assemblyman John Collier proposed what he called "a learn, earn and reimburse plan." Under this proposal, a student would sign a note to repay the state for fees connected with his instruction after he had graduated and his income had risen to a certain level.

THE REPORT ON this recommendation was read by committee chairman DeWitt Higgs of San Diego.

Assemblyman Robert Monagan proposed a sliding scale of additional charges beginning at $30 per academic year and going up on a graduated basis to $660 per year depending on family income.

The inquiry resulted from reaction to the play presented Nov. 8-9 for a limited audience. The play contains four letter words and a simulated oral sex act.

The play has been variously labeled "pornographic," "obscene," "personal catharsis," "of mediocre literary value," "significant social commentary," and "in the mainstream of American drama."

IT HAS RUN in San Francisco and New York and has been produced by workshop classes at several colleges. It is scheduled to open Sunday in Los Angeles.

Chairman Whetmore said in opening remarks Friday his committee believes many people are "disturbed by events that have taken place not only on the Fullerton campus, but on many other tax-supported campuses. . . . Many persons believe that perhaps the time has come to decide, if possible," where academic freedom degenerates into license.

Sen. Lawrence Walsh, D-Huntington Park, said he had received complaints from taxpayers—"they don't want to spend tax dollars this way."

Prof. Edwin Duerr, who teaches the directing class at Fullerton, defended the educational value of the work. He also said he had told the graduate student director that he, Duerr, did not care for the play and would not choose to stage it.

Crash Kills Motorist; 2 Persons Hurt

A Compton motorist was killed, and two other persons critically injured in a two-car crash Friday at Del Amo and Avalon boulevards in the Carson area, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Robert Leightly, 34, of 1886 Fernrock St. was dead on arrival at Harbor General Hospital following the 7:30 p.m. crash, which officers said occurred when Leightly failed to stop for a red light.

His passenger, 13-year-old Bruce Goodman, of the Fernrock address, and the driver of the second car, Nicholas Rueles, 50, of 25039 Walnut St., Lomita, were both reported in critical condition at Harbor General.

Senators Claim LBJ Dupes U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., said Friday the Johnson administration is duping Americans and undermining its credibility abroad by insisting that the United States is fighting worldwide communism in Vietnam.

To portray North Vietnam and Viet Cong rebels as "integral parts of a unified and monolithic world communism is simply a self-destructive fantasy" which to cover up past mistakes, the administration invented he told the Senate.

THE SPEECH by Aiken, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Senate's senior Republican, signaled the first major floor debate of the war in the second session of the 90th Congress, which convened Monday.

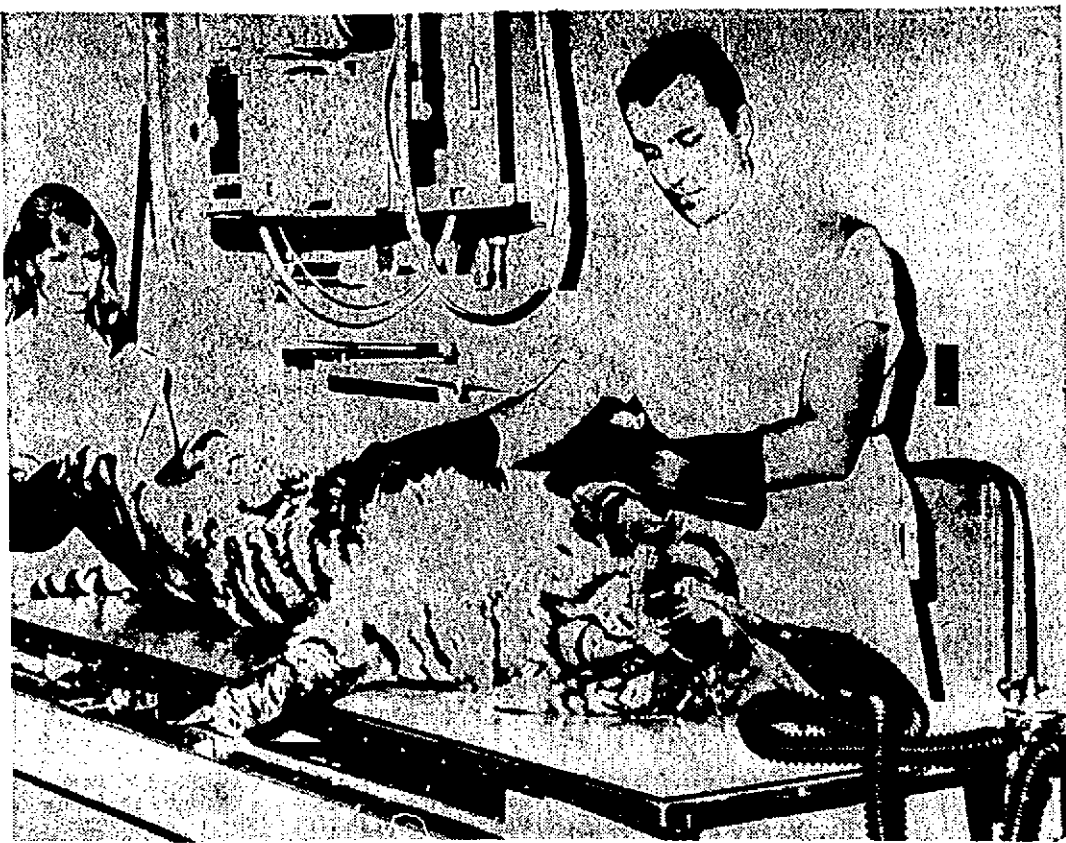

Departing from his text,

Aiken said the U.S. objective in the war amounts to "unconditional surrender" by North Vietnam.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., agreed and said the United States was preparing to "stay there for an indefinite period."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., said he believed President Johnson was "earnestly seeking negotiations" but that whatever his motives, other world leaders are convinced he is seeking only a military solution.

In his speech, Aiken questioned whether Johnson actually sought negotiations. "There is, in fact, very little the President has not urged in the running and confusing commentary on the war which has come out of the White House and the State Department," he said.

HOLD THAT TIGER, MISS WEAVER—HOLD THAT, ER—MISS WEAVER?!

Dr. Paul Tillotson, of Michigan State University's veterinary clinic, X-rays a royal bengal tiger with the assistance of student Lynne Weaver. The big cat, part of a Shrine circus troupe, is ailing and the medics don't know why. Its temperature dropped from a normal 100 to 94 degrees, and its weight has fallen about 100 pounds. Of course, one doesn't just ask an ailing tiger.

Demo Says Quake Biggest Nevada Bobby K. Must Run Underground 'A' Blast

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N.Y., Friday became the first member of Congress to call on Sen. Robert F. Kennedy publicly to seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

He said it was clear President Johnson could no longer offer himself to the American people in a spirit of peace and progress.

"His State of the Union message and the administration's failure to pursue seriously the latest initiative from Vietnam leaves little doubt that President Johnson will continue a course that will deepen our national crisis and diminish the Democratic Party's chance eventually to resolve these crises," Ryan said.

The reform Democrat from Manhattan's West Side made his appeal for Kennedy at a hastily-convened news conference. He said he had sent copies of his statement to Kennedy's office only a few minutes earlier. But he said Kennedy had not authorized his action.

Kennedy's office said the senator was in Westchester County, N.Y. and was not immediately available for comment.

Ryan, a Vietnam dove, acknowledged that a Kennedy candidacy would create the danger of a split in the party.

1 Dead as Plane Crashes in Valley

NORTH HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — One person was killed and five injured seriously Friday when their single-engine airplane crashed only 10 feet away from Valley Doctors Hospital here shortly after taking off from Burbank Airport.

Fatally injured was pilot William Allen Greenwood, a Los Angeles City fireman. Injured were Susie Matz, 22; Joe Samuelson, 23; Don Winkler, 24; Sylvia Johnson, and Pat Chamberlain.

HOT CREEK VALLEY, Nev. (AP) — The earthquake like shock created by Friday's tremendous underground nuclear test shot was felt more widely than any other, Atomic Energy Commission experts said.

Seismologists at the University of Utah gave it a magnitude of 6 to 6.5 on the Richter scale and the University of California at Berkeley estimated it at 5.75 or larger. Readings in the range of 6 are rated as strong shocks when they are caused by earthquakes and anything 7 or above is classified as major.

A TEST Dec. 20, 1966, was assigned a reading of 6.3 at Berkeley. The final magnitude determination of Friday's shock awaits study of photographic records.

The blast, with the wallop of nearly a million tons of TNT—perhaps the mightiest yet in this country—swayed buildings hundreds of miles away after being fired deep under a lonely desert valley.

In Salt Lake City, Utah, buildings swayed gently and police switchboards were swamped with calls of inquiry. In San Francisco the motion was felt less strongly—but the pendulum on an old fashioned railroad clock that always swings during earthquakes turned swifter for this one.

IN LAS VEGAS, oft-rocked by tests in the past, people atop the 24-story Mint Hotel said it "really rocked."

The AEC said there were rock slides on Morey Peak a few miles from the site and along U.S. Highway 6, about 12 miles from ground zero paving on bridges received minor cracks.

Los Angeles police reported a few calls from citizens who felt it. And in Eureka, on the Northern California coast, some 400 miles from the Central Nevada test area, the shock was felt as a "gentle ground roll." At a ranch home 50 miles distant pictures swung on walls.

THE ATOMIC ENERGY Commission said early reports from radiation monitoring instruments encircling the shot point indicated all radiation was contained beneath the surface.

The experiment was conducted to give scientists an idea of whether Hot Creek Valley is suitable for even more powerful tests.

A commission spokesman said a decision on whether the area can be used for bigger tests "must await data from today's test and from other studies of the area."

There was an earlier test in the Yucca Flat area of the permanent test site Friday. It was of a low-intermediate yield device buried about 1,500 feet underground and had energy equivalent to 20,000 to 200,000 tons of TNT, the AEC said.

The two tests were not related, the AEC added.

Reagan's Woes Spill Over to GOP Ranks

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Reagan's troubles with the legislature spilled over into his own Republican ranks Friday.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, complained "there seems to be a 'Gipper gap' in Sacramento."

That was a reference to one of Reagan's favorite movie roles — that of George Gipp, the old Notre Dame football hero. Bagley used the term in questioning some of the fiscal figures released recently by the Reagan administration.

THOSE FIGURES also were questioned by Republican State Controller Houston I. Flournoy. He wondered about the administration's contention that all of a $194 million surplus must be carried over — unspent — on the books every year. "We're exploring the whole thing."

Both Bagley and Flournoy were commenting on an announcement Wednesday by Reagan's finance director, Gordon P. Smith.

Smith noted that new tax revenues permitted the repayment this year of a $194 million cash debt left over from the administration of former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

BUT NOW THAT the debt has been repaid, Smith said, the state must continue to set aside the $194 million on the books every year as operating capital to prevent such debts to ever occur again.

Bagley, in a speech Thursday and in an interview Friday, said "our state financial people are running off tackle in both directions at once, and the public doesn't know whether we are $200 million dollars ahead or $200 million in the hole."

He said he didn't argue with Smith's contention that the $194 million shouldn't be spent. But he said "there is apparently something of an excess" in the state treasury, and advocated putting some of this money aside to provide greater property tax reductions in future years. He said the $155 million in local tax reductions promised by Reagan are not enough.

BY APRIL FOOL'S LBJ to Urge Surcharge Soon

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The administration intends to ask Congress to enact the 10 per cent surcharge on individual income taxes effective next April 1 and to make the 10 per cent increase in corporate taxes retroactive to Jan. 1.

The proposed new increase will be proposed to Congress on Monday when top administration officials go before the House Ways and Means Committee again to argue their case for the boost.

Any possibility of swift action on the tax bill appeared to have been ruled out, however, under a timetable for consideration of various tax measures set up in a closed committee session.

After next week's hearings on the tax proposal, the surcharge bill will be set aside while the committee considers tax measures aimed at reducing the deficit in the balance of international payments. There was no prediction of how long this might take.

In addition to the discussion of balance of payments measures, the Ways and Means Committee is expected to consider, and approve, legislation continuing the present 7 per cent excise tax on automobiles and 10 per cent tax on telephone service. Under present law, the auto tax is scheduled to drop to 2 per cent on April 1 and the telephone tax to 1 per cent.

Apollo Moon Launch Set for Monday

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The U.S. Space Agency reversed field Friday night and decided a Monday launching of the first Apollo moon landing spacecraft was still a possibility even though ground rules put it off for several days because of a test postponement.

The space agency was expected to clarify the situation today and set a definite launch date for the 16-ton lunar module and its Saturn I rocket.

The Apollo 5 launch had been set for Monday, but a recurring mysterious computer power failure Friday night halted a countdown rehearsal that officials said had to be completed before the start of the real countdown.

Death Ruled for 2 Killers

LOS ANGELES (CNS) — A Superior Court jury Friday ruled two young men must die in the San Quentin gas chamber for killing a bus driver during a $47 robbery.

The five-man, seven-woman jury returned the death penalty verdict against 20-year-old Johnny Milton and 21-year-old Barry Floyd after two days of deliberation.

They were convicted Jan. 11 of murdering John G. Hartzell, 71, during a hold-up of his Rapid Transit District bus in south central Los Angeles a year ago.

Hartzell was fatally shot when he resisted the robbery.

Lady Bird, Eartha Both Get Outpourings of Sympathy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lady Bird Johnson said Friday night she was sorry the nation heard "only the shrill voice of anger and discord" when Negro singer Eartha Kitt lectured a White House ladies' luncheon on Vietnam.

The White House said the First Lady and President Johnson had received "hundreds" of sympathetic telegrams and telephone calls expressing "approval of Mrs. Johnson's handling" of Miss Kitt's impassioned outburst Thursday.

Miss Kitt brought Mrs. Johnson to tears and stunned the 50 women "doers" who were White House guests by declaring that American youth were rebelling because they faced being "snatched off from their mothers to be maimed and shot in Vietnam."

Miss Kitt's outburst made her the hero of the hour, though, to Washington's anti-war demonstrators. About 100 women paraded outside the White House. "Eartha Kitt Speaks for America," some of their signs said.

Miss Kitt stuck to her guns Friday. In a series of interviews, she said she did not feel she was guilty of "bad manners" in speaking out.

The saucer-eyed singer with the sharp tongue told newsmen at Los Angeles International Airport that she had no regrets about speaking plainly to Mrs. Johnson.

"I said what is in my heart," she said, "and I think I am speaking for millions of Americans across the country and the world."

"I THINK what I had to say is primarily on the minds of people across the country. It was time that we began to examine our problems with the First Family directly. After all, the Johnsons are our family and as the head of the nation, who better to discuss the subject with?"

Asked what her solution to the nation's crime problem would be, the singer said:

"Mrs. Johnson wants to plant flowers and trees along the boulevards. They tried that in London and look at the condition England's in now, and ghetto areas is only a 'beautification of slum'."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At a cocktail party Friday night given by Washington hostess Perle Mesta, Miss Kitt's words were the major topic. Mrs. Mesta was brief and to the point. "You just don't do that in someone's home," she said.

pacifier. What we need are parks for the poor. People are getting flowers and trees instead of food and shoes for their children."

Miss Kitt explained she doesn't believe in giveaway programs and welfare, but does believe in opportunities for jobs and education in the cities.

Asked how she would solve the Vietnam war dilemma, the singer replied: "Why not just pull out of Vietnam and take a chance of 'losing face' as other countries have done, for instance England and France? It seems to me we are using Vietnam as a direct line to Red China. If that's the case, why don't we forget Vietnam and go directly into China?"

Miss Kitt said she thought Mrs. Johnson "handled herself very well" during their brief confrontation.

"She must have understood my meaning," the singer said.

ASKED about President Johnson leaving the luncheon after she asked him about "delinquent parents, those who have to work and are too busy to look after their children," the singer said:

"Mr. Johnson is always walking out, evading the issue."

Johnson, who had dropped in on the luncheon, left after Miss Kitt's question and his reply that day care centers had been established for children under Social Security legislation.

"But what are we going to do?" the singer asked.

"I think it would be a good idea if you would ask the women and then tell me what you think," Johnson said.

Mrs. Johnson received immediate support from Dr. George R. Davis, pastor of the National City Christian Church where the President is an elder. He was in Indianapolis when he read the story about Miss Kitt and he telegraphed Mrs. Johnson:

"I feel compelled to apologize for any member of that (human) family, including the Negroes, when someone is ill-mannered, arrogant and stupid."

ON CAPITOL Hill, Rep. George E. Brown Jr., D-Calif., an outspoken Vietnam dove, said he sympathized with Miss Kitt's views but felt they were said at the wrong time and the wrong place.

"I understand what she was saying and agree with what she said, but I don't think she should have said them under the circumstances," Brown said.

"I can also understand why Miss Kitt spoke up as she did, because she feels so very deeply about this. But as many times as I have been to the White House, I would not dream of doing that."

Mrs. Johnson, 15 feet away, tears welling in her eyes, looked directly at the singer and said in a trembling voice, "Because there is a war on -- and I pray that there will be a just and honest peace -- that still does not give us a free ticket not to try to work for better things such as against crime in the streets, better education and better health for our young people."

LATE Friday afternoon Mrs. Johnson went to a tea at the State Department where Secretary and Mrs. Dean Rusk honored her by giving her a special book "in recognition of her many contributions to international peace and understanding."

To Mrs. Johnson's surprise, the President dropped in at the tea. Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wis., another opponent of the war, expressed his support for Miss Kitt's action.

"I think it was the right time and the right place for Miss Kitt to speak up," he said. "I think it's unfortunate that Mrs. Johnson had to be embarrassed but I also think it is well that she (Miss Kitt) gained the attention she did in making the statement. I think she brought a fresher viewpoint and one closer to the causes of unrest in the ghettos because of the war than the other ladies present at the meeting."

Civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King said in Manhattan, Kan., that Miss Kitt's outburst "described the feelings of many persons," and that her making them was a "very proper gesture."

A radio station in Henryetta, Okla., KHEN, accused the singer of "arrogance" and said it would no longer air her recordings.

Maritime Union Probed for Dunning Pensioners

New York Times Service

NEW YORK — The U.S. Department of Labor and the New York State Department of Banking are investigating a service fee that the National Maritime Union is charging seamen receiving pensions.

The 7,500 union members on pensions of up to $250 a month are now required to pay the union up to $100 a year.

This is expected to provide the 50,000-member union with about $500,000 a year. Labor specialists here said Friday that they were not aware of any such charge by other unions.

THE UNION said in letters to its pensioners that the charge was necessary because "more and more of the union's work must be dedicated to activity connected with the pension plan."

The financing of the pension fund, including administrative costs, is borne by the employers, according to the union. But the union says that it also bears considerable expenses related to pensions.

"It's a pure and outrageous kickback," said James M. Morrissey, a seaman who has run in elections against the present union leadership. "I'm advising men on pensions not to pay it."

Bernard Raskin, public relations spokesman for the union, said the union understood that its action was illegal. He noted that the charge was instituted after a Dec. 26 vote in all ports by the active members.

RASKIN said the National Labor Relations Board, in a decision of June 13, 1967, had approved a similar charge for pension services instituted by the Progressive Mine Workers Union in Illinois.

An article of the NLU's constitution says "members receiving a monthly pension ... shall not be required to pay dues or assessments and shall be regarded as honorary members."

Active members pay dues of $120 annually.

'Freedom' Party Will Qualify

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Peace and Freedom Party appears headed for the California June presidential primary ballot, Assistant Secretary of State H. P. Sullivan announced Friday.

The party, which advocates immediate withdrawal from Vietnam and a strong civil rights program, unofficially received 41,507 registrations in 44 counties, not including Los Angeles and San Francisco, Sullivan said.

In Los Angeles, county officials reported the Peace and Freedom Party received an unofficial total of 35,807 registrations. The figure put the total well above the required 66,059 signatures.

The American Independent Party of former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has already qualified for the ballot.

"Based on the fact that with the unofficial figures submitted earlier by Los Angeles and San Francisco, there appears to be no doubt the two parties will qualify," Sullivan said.

Onions Grow Faster in Space

MOSCOW (AP) — A visit to outer space makes onions grow faster, the official news agency Tass reported Thursday, and Soviet scientists don't know why.

Tass said onions were sent into space with six separate Cosmos earth satellites, and all grew faster at the same rate, though their time up and the amount of radiation differed.

'Enterprise' Sailors Ignore Leftist Nippon Desert Plea

SASEBO, Japan (UPI) — Japanese pacifists and leftists clashed with police and drove through "sailor town" Friday night urging men of the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise and two other U.S. Navy vessels to jump ship in protest against the Vietnam war. The sailors ignored them.

The chief of the antiwar appeal, Makoto Oda, leads Beheiren, the peace group which helped four Americans desert from the aircraft carrier Intrepid during a Japanese port call three months ago.

ODA was joined Friday night by members of Zengakuren, the militant left-wing group which violently protested the visit of the Enterprise to Sasebo en route to "Yankee Station" in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The U.S. seamen ignored ODA and his "peaceniks," finding Sasebo's bar girls with their miniskirts and beehive hairdos far more interesting. Commanders of the three American vessels said they were sure none of the men would defect. Crewmen were told to avoid troublemakers.

The Enterprise, the biggest ship afloat, arrived in Sasebo Friday morning with the frigates Truxton and Halsey. The Truxton is nuclear-powered. The Halsey has conventional engines.

The Enterprise, making her first call in Japan, carried a crew of 5,250 men, the Truxton, 505 and the Halsey, 395. Half of the crews were granted liberty Friday afternoon.

RIOT police and mobs of Zengakurens battled in the streets of Sasebo Friday for the third consecutive day as the Enterprise dropped anchor, but the fighting was mild in comparison to clashes Wednesday and Thursday.

Authorities said eight demonstrators were arrested during three brief flurries of violence Friday morning and a fourth clash Friday afternoon.

RTD System Will Divert 50% Traffic

From Our L.A. Bureau

Preliminary figures indicate the projected new rapid transit system would divert from the nearby freeways 11 to 50 per cent of work-trip traffic, a state study showed Friday.

Los Angeles Regional Transportation Study, the five-county agency making the report, said transit would give peak period relief to four nearby freeways — the future Industrial (along the Long Beach corridor), the San Bernardino, the Hollywood-Ventura and the future Beverly Hills.

The relief over-all would be less — 4 to 10 per cent fewer total trips.

"It should be noted these figures are a first approximation and will require further analysis in regard to station locations, trip purposes, origin-destination and other factors before they can be finalized, according to the agency."

However, the study of likely 1980 traffic patterns in the counties of Orange, Los Angeles, Ventura, Riverside and San Bernardino didn't indicate the vehicle will become extinct.

There will be 8,153,000 automobiles and trucks in the five-county Southland by 1980, predicted the study.

This will result in 236,630,000 average week-day vehicle miles. And transit or not, 57 per cent of the vehicles will be flowing on those concrete freeway monsters, according to the report.

Four More Apollo Jobs for Downey

North American Rockwell Space Division at Downey has been asked by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to submit a proposal to supply four additional spacecraft for the Apollo moon landing project.

NASA has 16 of the three-man lunar craft on order and hopes to launch at least one to the moon before 1970 after manned training flights in earth orbit.

Delivery of the four additional capsules would start in 1970, according to NASA spokesmen.

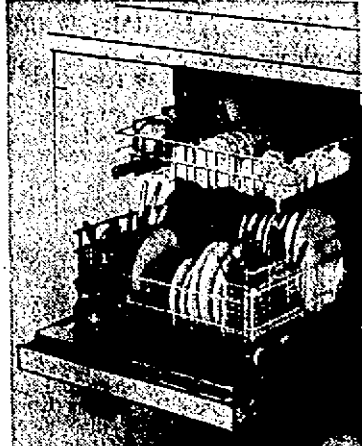

In December 1967, NASA upped the original order of 12 to 16, with an incremental payment of $812 million covering the additional modules and some back payment for earlier work. The original contract in 1961 was valued at $2.2 billion.

The Downey plant is scheduled to deliver the first fully operational Apollo flight vehicle in mid-March of this year. The company has completed and delivered 23 boilerplate models, 19 full-scale mock-ups, six unmanned flight test vehicles and eight more for various ground testing.

Three touchdowns each had tied the score and a mere 10 seconds remained on the clock Friday. Scattered jeers and catcalls from supporters of both Right Wing and Left echoed across the grassy California State College at Long Beach playing field.

A few fainthearts—in a crowd of about 500 out to watch Hawk battle Dove in flag football—started to leave.

"Is this epic struggle between Right and Wrong to go into the history books as a tie?" despondently muttered a bespectacled, but politically unidentifiable bystander.

It wasn't.

Rightist quarterback Roger Holbrook, backed against his own goal line, dropped back to pass. High and fast the pigskin arced over a charging, "unbalanced to the Left," line.

And dropped into the arms of Hawk lineman Mike Morgan, who sped standing up across the Doves' line.

Referee Dr. George Demos — "the only impartial man on campus"—invoked the "Marquis of Queensbury rule," so described, to allow a final desperation play by the Left. It went nowhere.

Final score: Hawks, 24; Doves, 18.

Sadly, there were no goalposts to uproot. And a chalked goal line is difficult to salvage for posterity. But the crowd's noise level did shoot skyward.

As football, UCLA vs. USC the game wasn't.

IT WAS, however, good, hard-fought sandlot-style ball, with grabable flags replacing tackles. The only "injury" came early in the first 10-minute quarter: Dr. John Dackawich, playing for the Doves, went out on a sprain. Almost equally early in that quarter the Hawks drew first blood from their pink-to-red T-shirted opponents, scoring an easy 6. (Kicking an extra point was outlawed since competing players were unshod or wore sneakers.)

Moments later the Doves tied the score. A second Dove TD was called back for illegal procedure. Neither of the vaunted pregame tactics were seen: no "Statue of Lib-

Ambulance Case Stretched Out by Continuance

By BOB SANDERS

Superior Court Judge Max Z. Wisot continued the hearing Friday on a petition asking for a reversal of the Long Beach Bureau of Franchises decision to approve application for a third ambulance service in Long Beach until Monday.

Judge Wisot heard arguments for more than an hour Friday on the petition of Bowers and Dilday Ambulance Services against the Bureau of Franchises and Mottell's Mortuary.

The petition asks that the bureau be ordered to rescind its approval of the Mottell application for a permit to operate an ambulance service in the city.

After a lengthy hearing the bureau granted Mottell's application Dec. 14 to operate four ambulances in the city.

The petition, filed by Atty. Melvin I. Nutter, contends the bureau's action is invalid because finding that a third ambulance service is needed for "public necessity and convenience," as required by statute, is "not supported by substantial evidence."

Attorneys Nutter and Warren H. Eckert argued before Judge Wisot that the writ of mandamus ordering the bureau to set aside its ruling be granted.

Atty. Carl Minton of Los Angeles, representing Mottell's, argued the petition be denied on grounds the bureau acted within its powers in that there is a need for another ambulance service because the two present firms do not service the southeastern part of the city adequately.

Deputy City Atty. Phil Shafer represented the bureau.

In continuing the hearing the judge indicated he hoped to have a decision after hearing more arguments at 2 p.m. Monday.

Group Installs New Officers

Dr. William D. Harris has been installed as president of the Long Beach Society of Internal Medicine.

He succeeds Dr. William H. Olson.

Other new officers are Dr. Oscar W. Shadle, president-elect, and Dr. Jack Lieberman, secretary-treasurer. Dr. Edward R. Evans is the new program chairman.

'Rights' Violation Arraignment Set

Two Long Beach police officers charged with violating the civil rights of a college art instructor will be arraigned Monday before a U.S. District Judge.

Patrolmen Warren J. Simpson, 34, and Eugene J. Brizzolara, 29, both of Long Beach, will appear before Judge Warren Ferguson at 9:30 a.m. in the Los Angeles Federal Building on the misdemeanor complaint.

The U.S. Justice Department complaint charges the officers with arresting Robert Conner Everts on Jan. 11, 1965, "without lawful jurisdiction." It also charges each of the policemen "struck and assaulted Everts with the intent . . . of inflicting summary punishment upon him."

The 39-year-old Everts, currently a visiting professor of fine arts at USC, was then an art instructor at California State College at Long Beach.

Attorney Albert C. S. Ramsey, who will represent Simpson, said he had "never heard of this type of action being filed in this area before."

Ramsey, who earlier called the federal complaint "ridiculous," said, "The police inquiry couldn't find anything amiss, the district attorney bypassed the brutality charge and the grand jury walked away from it."

Ramsey said he thinks Brizzolara will be represented by city counsel, although "It's possible I may represent him, too."

Long Beach police say both officers have "outstanding" service records. Brizzolara received a departmental citation in 1962 after he and his partner captured two armed robbers fleeing a market holdup.

The Justice Department action came just eight days before the statute of limitations would have expired, Ramsey said.

The incident, which occurred following the arrest of Everts in a bar at 3844 E. Anaheim St., is also the subject of a $150,000 suit on file in Long Beach Superior Court.

Everts originally charged police brutality soon after his release from jail on the disturbing the peace charge. He claimed he was beaten by the two officers when he was arrested, while riding in their patrol car and in an elevator in the Long Beach Public Safety Building.

Long Beach City Prosecutor James Starr subsequently ordered the charges against Everts dropped, saying at the time there was "not enough evidence."

If convicted on the two misdemeanor counts, both officers could receive a year in prison and/or a $1,000 fine.

L.B. Urged to Act Now for U.S. Health Funds

By BEN ZINSER
Medical-Science Editor

A state medical society official urged Long Beach Friday to move rapidly if it wants to get its proper share of federal funds for a monumental health program.

The official, Dr. Malcolm C. Todd, president-elect of the California Medical Association, said the health program probably will be a billion-dollar operation within a short time.

Dr. Todd, a Long Beach surgeon, addressed community leaders and health officials in Elks Lodge. The meeting was called by the Long Beach Community Welfare Council, the Long Beach Health Department and Los Angeles County health districts comprising the harbor area, Bellflower, Compton and Torrance.

Dr. Todd said new legislation, known as comprehensive health planning, is "one of the most all-encompassing pieces of legislation ever enacted by Congress."

HE QUOTED A HIGH official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare as saying the program would become a billion-dollar operation within a short time.

Said Dr. Todd: "This program will encompass all hospitals, all nursing homes, all doctors, all nurses, all medical technicians—all the health manpower team."

He said it would cover the entire field of environmental health, mental health, mental retardation and personal health services.

"The money is available in federal funds," Dr. Todd said.

LONG BEACH MUST move rapidly, he urged, if it is to use these federal funds "in the most expeditious way."

Dr. Todd recommended that Long Beach name a steering committee plus a board of directors of 30 to 35 members representing all health organizations and consumers of medical services.

He also urged a survey of health facilities and services and rapid development of a plan of action for the community.

At the conclusion of Dr. Todd's address, Mrs. Nell Wills, chairman of the health division of the Community Welfare Council, named a six-member steering committee for a Comprehensive Health Planning Association of Long Beach.

Committee members are Dr. Jerome A. Cope, president of the Long Beach Medical Association; Dr. J. D. Litwack, Long Beach health officer; George M. Logan, executive director of the Community Welfare Council; Walter M. Oliver, administrator of Long Beach Community Hospital; Dr. Horace Rains, of the Long Beach Medical Association; and Mrs. Wills, representing the harbor district of the American Cancer Society.

Earlier, federal and state health officials explained details of legislation dealing with comprehensive health planning.

ROBERT G. BULL, San Francisco, regional program representative, medical care administration, U.S. Public Health Service, said Congress already has authorized more than $604 million to operate the program for the next three years.

Millions have already been appropriated for the program, he added.

William D. Simmons, Berkeley, assistant chief (administration), division of community health services, California Department of Public Health, emphasized the need for immediate health planning.

He told of the lag between new medical discoveries and their application.

"The disparity will get worse unless we plan,"

Simmons said a State Health Planning Council has already been named for California to implement programs for the state. Two of its members are Long Beach residents — Henry Clock, lawyer, and Dr. Malcolm C. Todd.

Mrs. Birch Says Gun 'Went Off'

A rifle bullet fired at a Compton policeman and a private citizen was all an accident, Pearl Choate Birch told a Los Angeles Superior Court jury Friday.

The former practical nurse — who inherited a multi-million dollar fortune when her seventh husband died last year — took the stand in her own defense and claimed she was fearful for her safety when the police and a crowd arrived at her Compton duplex apartment.

A dispute over rent with the tenant in the other unit touched off the gunplay.

"I was afraid and apprehensive the way they were acting," the 200-pound, six-footer said in a soft Texas drawl.

She claimed the father of the woman who lived in the other unit once threatened her life over the removal of the doors from the apartment.

"I was terribly frightened," Mrs. Birch, who served 12 years in a Texas prison for a 1949 murder, said.

"I had never seen the man before and there's been quite a lot of riots and trouble in that area."

Mrs. Birch is charged with two counts of assault with intent to commit murder on Compton policeman Rex Council and Compton resident Rod Ferguson, brother-in-law of the woman who rented the duplex apartment.

A rifle bullet narrowly missed both.

Mrs. Birch said she didn't pick up the gun with the intent of using it, but just to make room to sit down on a cedar chest.

"I didn't know it was loaded, and I didn't intend to use it," she said. She said it just "went off."

I, P-T Executive to Attend N.Y. News Seminar

Bert Resnik, assistant managing editor of the Independent Press-Telegram, will attend a two-week seminar beginning Monday at New York City's Columbia University.

He is among 30 selected newspaper executives from 18 states, Canada and Puerto Rico who will attend the American Press Institute program.

The program includes lectures by leading figures in the field of news dissemination.

Week's Wall Street Trend

-14a dividend omitted, deferred or no action! In-foreign issue subject to info
+7 taken at last dividend meeting. r-De-Equalization tax.

With Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis

A noticeable lack of interest and support as the market retreated during the recent correction has allowed what started as a softer trend to develop into a weaker trend. The profit taking has been allowed to gain enough momentum to put the short-term picture under significant pressure. Now, further consolidation or correction is expected before a rally of any significance should develop.

The need for the DJIA to completely reverse its year-end rally has resulted in a more sluggish outlook over the near-term. A test of the 875-880 area of the December low is now expected. The failure to hold will turn the mid-term outlook negative and would suggest taking some trading profits.

THE INTERMEDIATE

trend which showed a significant improvement during the last rally has turned less dynamic recently; however, above the 870-880 level it will remain more positive than negative. Some areas, i.e., Advance-Decline Index, New High-New Low Index, and odd-lot statistics, have failed to report the recent declines by the major averages. Also, the broader based averages, i.e., the Standard and Poor Industrial Index, New York Stock Exchange Index, have not yet experienced more than normal corrections.

United Fruit, Chrysler, and Sunray DX continue to show good relative strength during a sluggish period in the market. The recent strength in United Fruit suggests a near-term move to the mid and high 60s and higher levels longer term. Chrysler still has a near-term objective to the low 60s, while Sunray DX has a count to the mid 40s. Outboard Marine has been somewhat sluggish; however, the tape action remains positive. But unless it begins to regain some momentum soon, it will be removed from the list on a short-term trading basis. Whittaker has met some gains in recent trading on favorable tape action. Allowing for a little more backing and filling over the minor term, it is still expected to move higher.

has developed in the trading of the institutions and big traders. While it is still not a decisive change, it does make this indicator more bullish than bearish. Among the issues under large-scale accumulation which are regarded favorably on a technical basis are: Gulf & Western Purex, Sunray DX, Lone Star Gas, Chrysler, General Time, Armour. Among the issues under large-scale distribution which are regarded unfavorably are: RCA, Continental Air Lines, Beckman Instrument, American Cyanamid, Pan American World Airways, Corn Products.

While the blue chip sector could continue to consolidate over the minor term, they are expected to regain upside momentum soon. This in turn would suggest higher levels for the market. The glamors, e.g., IBM, Xerox, started to recover some of the sharp losses; however, they have not yet gained significant upside momentum. They are still on trial and they still must prove that the last pullback was only a contra-trend move.

Smile of Year Contest Grins In

By DICK EMERY

All the eighth graders in public schools in the harbor area have been smiling lately — smiling at the school dentist.

It's the annual Smile of the Year contest. A winner — for the whole City of Los Angeles school system — will be chosen by the dentist and his deputies next Wednesday.

All six smiles shown in the accompanying photos won nods from the judge. How do you rate them?

The group of four smiles, left to right, worn by June Bestwick, 13, George Powers, 13, John Gillett, 14, and Isabel Tucay, 13, are winners at Wilmington Junior High, in Wilmington. (Each Junior High has its four winners — two runners-up, two champs.) John and Isabel wore the smiles judged brightest in the school.

At right, the smiles worn by Margaret Gillespie, 14, and Mark Hibben, 14, eighth-graders at Peary Junior High in Gardena, won top rating in the Harbor District finals and will compete for All-City honors.

$30,000 Gas Leak Injury Suit Filed

A $30,000 damage suit was filed Friday against the American Chemical Co. for injuries suffered by a motorist Sept. 28 when a gas leak at the company's plant at 2112 E. 223rd St. caused highly toxic chlorine gas to spread over the San Diego Freeway.

WILLIAM D. Franscone, 40-year-old Hermosa Beach truck driver, filed the suit alleging he was driving on the freeway when his car filled with the gas.

In addition to injury to his lungs and eyes, the suit, filed by Atty. Henry E. Kappler, Los Angeles, further alleges that when he tried to stop his car was struck from the rear by another vehicle and suffered multiple bruises and injury to his lower back.

IN ADDITION to the $30,000 general damages the suit also asks undetermined medical expenses and loss of earnings, to be determined at a later date.

The gas leak caused two deaths and injured more than 70 people, authorities said.

Admiral Rudden Takes Command

The command of the Long Beach-based Navy detachment that will soon number the world's one remaining battleship among its vessels passed Friday to 52-year-old Rear Adm. Thomas J. Rudden.

The command ceremony lowered the flag of Rear Adm. W. V. Combs, 53, as commander of Cruiser-Destroyer Flotilla Three and installed Rudden as boss of the 32-warship unit.

The flotilla is scheduled to receive the battlewagon USS New Jersey, the only one now in commission, when she arrives on the West Coast next summer after her refitting and modernization in Philadelphia Naval Shipyard.

With major units of the flotilla on duty in Vietnamese waters with the Seventh Fleet, Friday's change of command ceremony was held aboard the USS Long Beach, though the guided missile cruiser is not under that command.

Adm. Rudden began his Navy career as an ensign on the battleship USS California and won the first of a series of heroism awards there when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

As senior flotilla commander he automatically also assumes duties as commander Cruiser-Destroyer Group Long Beach.

Adm. Combs has been designated to take command of the Pacific Fleet's service force of 120 ships and 31 shore facilities in February at Pearl Harbor, succeeding Rear Adm. Edwin D. Hooper.

Two more touchdowns by the Right, and the half ended 18-6.

Accompanying the action were the scattered chants of Rightist supporters: "We know we're right" and "Fight for the right." Halftime entertainment was limited, too—no bands, majorettes or pompon girls.

Instead, a handful of Doves hearing signs declaring "Play football not war" and "Throw passes not napalm" sat-in at center field. Hawk players received equal demonstration time and staged a signless sit-down.

A fast-thrusting Rightist back, early in the third, stole the ball from Dove quarterback Sohn Stretzle and scored —only to see it canceled by a penalty. The period ended with a smooth Leftist play involving a forward pass, lateral and sharp broken field running. It was 18-12 as the final stanza began.

The teams fought gamely in the fourth, with the Doves scoring what appeared to be the final tying score—18-18. Then came that galvanic effort resulting in the Hawk victory.

Jointly sponsoring the event, hopefully to "let off the tensions of a hard semester," were Young Americans for Freedom and the Student Action Committee.

Police Gun-Threat Against Students Charges Dropped

By WALT MURRAY

A Long Beach policeman accused by students of threatening to shoot protesters during a demonstration at California State College at Long Beach has denied the charge, school officials said Friday.

College officials said Lt. Ray Henry, head of the police intelligence detail, told them he discussed the incident with the officer and his partner and they denied it.

Graduate students Wayne Perry and Robert Densmore told college deans during a peaceful demonstration Jan. 4 they heard the officer tell his partner, "You'd better hold me back, because I might shoot three or four of them."

Perry said when he turned to look at the two men — later identified by college officials as plainclothesmen Gary Colvin and John Owens—one officer was "fondling" the gun in his shoulder holster. Perry said he could identify the officer who "fondled" his gun.

Dean of Students George Demos said he met with Lt. Henry after Perry and Densmore filed written statements on the alleged incident, and the Associated Students Senate asked his office to investigate.

Demos said the meeting was one of several held to discuss police police activities on campus. Officers are present in an "advisory capacity" during demonstrations, Demos said.

The dean said he first thought Perry was a member of the demonstrating Student Action Committee, and did not learn he was not until Perry filed his written statement.

Both Perry and Densmore said they are not affiliated with Student Action Committee, and were not participants in the demonstration.

What an Independent, Press-Telegram Carrier Route Has Done for Me

by DAN SULLIVAN

1, P-T NEWSPAPER BOY, AGE 13

"I have learned how to manage money, organize my own business as a carrier, and learned to work with the public."

"My route is on Lemon and Harding streets in Long Beach. I have bought a racing bike with my earnings and have saved $110.10. As a prize, I have won a generator and light set. My hobbies are slot car racing and rock collecting, and my favorite sports are football and baseball. I intend to go to Long Beach City College after I graduate from high school. I now attend Hamilton Junior High where I am in the eighth grade," reports Dan.

We Salute Dan because he has been on the route for 18 months and has increased the number of subscribers by 13 since he started his route.

CONFIDENT LIVING

You Can Fight Fear With Faith

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Life sometimes has a way of becoming frightening. It can indeed look pretty fierce. It shakes its spear. It rattles its saber. It blows on you with icy breath. And you get frightened. Sure, who doesn't.

A man requested an interview, saying it was very urgent. And he told me, "I've got to admit I'm afraid. You see I have to go to the hospital tomorrow for an operation. They tell me I must have it right away."

"And is there really cause for alarm?" I asked.

"I don't know the whole story," he said. "And neither do the doctors until they operate." He said no more. And I let it go at that. "You don't ask a man why he's scared. Not unless you see he wants to tell you more." You just let him know of your support. "Pray for me, will you?" he asked.

I felt moved to put my hand on his shoulder and could feel his body tremble. He was so frightened of what might be ahead he was shuddering inside but trying not to show it. I felt plenty of empathy for the man's state of mind.

"Look," I said, "do you believe that God is with you?"

"Yes, I guess I do." But he didn't sound at all sure.

"YOU'VE GOT to do more than guess you do," I told him. "The Bible gives us the assurance that God is with us always. We are never alone when we believe, really believe that. The more we put our trust in God the more signs He gives of love and concern for us."

Suddenly the man's mind seemed strengthened and he said, "I do believe that God is with me — so I will not be afraid. Please continue to pray that I may have what it takes to go through this ordeal and not be afraid, whatever happens."

He had the operation and after a speedy recovery was soon back to work. Later he told me confidently, "I had a healing. I know

I did. What I mean is, I was healed of the fear of what might be."

"What time I am afraid, I will trust in Thee..." says the 56th Psalm. If you will make that affirmation on your own you will find for a fact that you can overcome fear. You will always have the necessary spiritual resources within you to fight fear. It takes real fortitude and strength but you can do it.

There comes to mind a man in whom I sensed a high degree of fearlessness. He was a country workman — a rather short bowlegged fellow possessing great physical strength. When you shook hands with him it was like grasping the branch of some sturdy oak. He was about as rugged a fellow as you can imagine. One day I asked, "Harry, have you ever been afraid of anything at all? You don't look like you'd scare very easily."

"YOU CAN'T tell from looking at a man what goes on inside," he reminded me. "You bet your life I've been afraid. But I'm not scared of things any more. And the reason is I've got the five G's going for me."

"The five G's," I asked, mystified, "what could they be?"

He grinned and replied, "Guidance, Grace, Guts, Gumption and God."

That is a good strong formula for overcoming fear, the five G's. GUIDANCE: God will guide you in anything if you let Him. GRACE: He will give you all the strength you need at all times — helping you when you can't help yourself. GUTS: Plain determined courage. GUMPTION, a good old American concept meaning initiative and shrewd common sense. And finally: the knowledge that GOD is with you always and forever. "What time I am afraid, I will trust in Thee."

Those five G's will help you be unafraid in any situation, any time, all the time.

FREE LECTURE

How a spiritual dimension of thinking can bring better solutions to individual and community problems will be the topic of Thomas O. Poyser, C.S.B., Sunday, 3 p.m., in a public lecture at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 440 Elm Ave. Poyser was manager of a Dallas business firm when he resigned to devote full time to Christian Science. He was a Bronze Star winner with the Air Force in World War II.

BRETHREN MOVE INTO SANCTUARY

The congregation of First Brethren Church will move into its new sanctuary, final unit of the new plant at 36th Street and Linden Avenue, Sunday at 11 a.m. The air conditioned sanctuary seats 1,450 and is equipped with a 31-rank Moller pipe organ.

Speaker will be noted evangelist Dr. Merv Rosell. At 7 p.m., the pastor, Dr. Charles W. Mayes, will speak on "Jesus Christ, the Same Yesterday, Today and Forever." Both the 50-voice choir and the Men's Choir will present music at the services.

(More about the new sanctuary, with pictures, upon the occasion of the forthcoming official dedication.)

Cardiologist Pioneer Dies

Dr. Ralph Myron Tandowsky, who helped take the first electrocardiogram of the gray whale, died Thursday in Newport Beach after a long illness. He was 67.

Tandowsky, who practiced cardiology in Los Angeles for 35 years, traveled to Scammon's Lagoon, Baja California, Mexico, in 1954 with Dr. Paul Dudley White and Donald Douglas Sr. for the experiment with the whale.

It was Tandowsky who developed the painless probe lead which was shot into the whale from a helicopter to transmit the electrical impulses.

P.S. to 'Good Show'

By probably unanimous agreement of those there (a great turnout of more than 500), the second annual Spotlight Award banquet Thursday night rated a "good show!" Things flowed right along, eased by the light touch of good fellowship. Somehow, while there were appropriately deep and thoughtful moments, there was scarcely a stuffy one.

To "those who know Long Beach best" the selections for the three awards — Dr. Enterson Hagen, Mrs. Ann DeVries and George MacLean — were right on the button.

The two men involved will not mind one bit if it be said here that perhaps the award to that splendid lady, Mrs. DeVries, was a highlight of highlights to remember.

MRS. SITES NEW PREXY

Mrs. Raymond A. Sites was installed as new president of the Long Beach Area Council of Churches during the Spotlight Award banquet Thursday. A leading churchwoman at First Congregational, Mrs. Sites has been both moderator and chairman of the board of directors of the Southern California Conference of the United Church of Christ.

Other new officers: vice presidents, Richard M. Cline, Rev. Dr. H. David Burcham, Mrs. J. A. Sprague; secretary, Mrs. Ralph E. Boyd; treasurer, Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Boyd.

Stassen Leads Clergy Dove Tour

SAIGON (AP) — A group of American clergymen and laymen interested in finding a peaceful solution to the Vietnam war met Friday with Vietnamese religious leaders.

The U.S. Interreligious Committee on Peace arrived last Tuesday and will leave today to continue a world tour during which they are seeking the advice of leaders of the world's religions on peace.

It includes former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, who is representing the American Baptist Convention.

Prior to coming to Vietnam, the committee met with World Council of Churches officials in Geneva, with Vatican officials and with religious leaders in Istanbul and Jerusalem. They also participated in a four-day symposium on peace in New Delhi.

of sentimental and meaningful moment could one picture than the surprised and slightly overwhelmed Mrs. DeVries moving forward to receive the award on the arm of the outgoing Council president, Rev. C. LeRoy Doty, who was born when she had already rolled up an impressive record of years of service. And she is still vitally involved with the issues and needs of the day — dramatically changed though things are!

Because of deadline requirements, we had to write our story for the Friday morning paper before leaving for the banquet. Since the identity of the winners was secret, this became an operation to make the CIA envious. Trimmed out of the advance story for inextinguishable space reasons were many of Ann DeVries' activities. In addition to the impressive catalogue of service which saw print, she has also been president of the YWCA, and is an active figure in the Community Chest, Church Women United and the board of the International Christian Scholarship Committee. She gives her talents to the Japanese International Christian University advisory staff, has helped with the California Migrant Ministry, has served on special committees of the Juvenile Court, is a POE member, and was twice selected as a member of groups going to East Asia to study housing, education and population problems. She recently joined her (proud) husband, Judge Martin DeVries, in presenting to the Coast Guard the Freedom Shrine now on display.

For this one salute to Ann DeVries alone, one shudders to think that the Council might NOT have inaugurated its awards program.

Also because the story was spirited through before the event, there was no mention in it of the impressive ceremony of inauguration of the new slate of officers, conducted with much more than the perfunctory manner by Dr. Forrest Weir, head of the Churches. Also worth noting Southland Council of ing, the introduction of the newest member of the local Council, Community Church of Leisure World, Seal Beach, 51st member church of the vigorous group.

It was all well wrapped up by the typically challenging eloquence of Dr. Trueblood, with Quaker forthrightness, clarity and brevity.

This scribe enjoyed being at a table with a lively group of students and a faculty member and his wife from Pacific Christian College. By gosh if one of the students didn't take voluminous notes! — L.R.

55th Southland Council Meet

The 55th general assembly of the Council of Churches in Southern California convenes in Claremont Wednesday. Dr. Forrest C. Weir, chief executive officer of the Council for the past 17 years and dean of all council leaders on the West Coast, will give his annual appraisal address on the theme: "The Demands of Change and the Opportunity of Renewal."

Guest speaker will be Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy, general secretary of the National Council of Churches and a member of the Working Group of Fourteen, representing the Vatican and the World Council of Churches which seeks to find appropriate and effective ways Roman Catholics and the non-Roman churches may cooperate. His title is "The Ecumenical Revolution."

FROM THE PULPIT

Is your home being robbed without your knowing it? It might be well for you to check and see if some of the important things are missing.

How about family worship on the Lord's Day? Is it missing? What thief took it away? Did you know that this had to be guarded, even as other valuables?

How about Bible reading? Has some thief stolen that, too? Was it in TV, newspapers, and trashboxes that stole this valuable part of your life?

How about family communication? Is that missing, too? Is the communication line of the family severed, or hanging by a thread, someone or something is to blame. A thief has been there. Check on Grace at meals. No, this is not a triviality. It is a vital acknowledgment of God as the source of all good. Satan would rob us of all that glorifies God!

If you are being robbed without knowing it—if you and your family are suffering from continually "missing things"—that really matter, take stock today and put the thieves to flight.

If you do not have a good, Bible-centered home, why not let Calvary this Sunday? Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you.

First Nazarene Church of Long Beach has been one of the fastest growing congregations in the Southland during the past few years. The church, located for many years in the downtown area, moved to the Clark Street location and erected a complex of buildings valued at more than one million dollars. It is noted for its warmth of ministry and song. Duplicate morning worship services are offered at 9:30 and 10:50 a.m., with complete Sunday school running at both hours.
The Sunday evening service at 7:00 p.m. is attended each week by many hundreds. This Sunday evening, Dr. Gilliland will speak on the interesting subject, "HEART TRANSPLANT—PROBLEM OR PROMISE?" We would be happy to see you there.

BANQUET TO CELEBRATE PLANS

Historic 1st Methodist to 'Build Again in Faith'

First Methodist Church will celebrate its decision to "build again in faith" at its first fellowship luncheon rally noon Sunday, with the honored guest, Rev. William Harrison Myers, who was pastor from 1948-1958.

The historic church at Fifth Street and Pacific Avenue plans a new sanctuary to move ahead with the needs of today — another vote of confidence in the future of downtown Long Beach.

The history of The Methodist Church in Long Beach predates the city itself. In 1884, Bishop Cyrus Foss appointed the first minister, Rev. George W. Elwood to organize a new church, the result of the enthusiastic and popular camp meetings which had been held in Compton, and then later "on the high bluffs overlooking the Pacific." The city of Long Beach was not incorporated until March 2, 1888.

tails and convalescent homes.

A "Coffee House," identified as "The Place," serves single adults in the neighborhood, as well as the service man and the lonely.

Dr. Donald R. O'Connor, former district superintendent, is pastor, assisted by Rev. John C. Juddkins. Warren Heistand was elected chairman of the Building and Study Committee, which arrived at the resolution to replace the present building. Kenneth S. Wing, architect, has prepared preliminary drawings.

THE FIRST Methodist Church building, consisting of a tabernacle, a chapel, and a pavilion, was begun in 1885 and finished in 1887, on ground held by "The Methodist Resort Association" comprising an entire block between Third and Fourth Streets and Locust and American Avenues (Long Beach Boulevard).

The facility seated 1700 and the chapel served Methodists as a place of worship for 14 years. The second was built in 1889 on the northeast corner of Fifth Street and Pine Avenue, present site of the J. C. Penney Company. The Long Beach census for 1900 was 2,252. The structure consisted of quarters for the Sunday School and a sanctuary for worship. Church membership was 266.

By 1905, the city was growing rapidly and the six year-old church was already too small, so plans for a new building began, this time at its present location. Actual construction started in 1907, and was caught shortly thereafter in the disastrous depression and panic which swept the country. The building was not to be completed until August, 1909. Church membership was now 1,300 and the new edifice, with its seating capacity of 2,500 was regarded as one of the finest on the west coast.

During this era, First Methodist Church of Long Beach began its community service, uniting with other churches to hold city-wide revivals and evangelistic services. Later annual conferences of The Methodist Church were to be held in the huge sanctuary, and "Sacred Chautauquas" on Sunday evenings attracted capacity attendance.

BRETHREN MANOR ANNIVERSARY
First anniversary of the dedication of Long Beach Brethren Manor will be celebrated in ceremonies Sunday, 3 p.m. at the rental retirement facility for senior citizens, located at 3333 Pacific Place.

State Sen. Joseph M. Kennick will speak, following remarks by a battery of notables, including L. P. Nathanson, special consultant for the California Commission on Aging; George Logan, Long Beach Community Welfare Council, and Rev. Glenn H. Bowlby, executive secretary, Southland Church of the Brethren.

An informal reception will follow the program. At 7 p.m., the Benevolence Fund Banquet will be addressed by Ignacio Galindo, director, Federal Housing and Urban Development, Southwest area.

Methodist Plans Cardinal's Fund
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The new United Methodist Church announced plans for an international program in the 1968-72 period on such questions as urbanization, hunger, national development and world peace. The program has been approved by both the Methodist World Division and the World Division of the Evangelical United Brethren Board of Missions.

His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre has tagged Sunday for the annual membership drive for the Archbishop's Fund for Charity. The fund assists Catholic agencies and institutions as well as many families in need.

GOINGS ON

Ecumenicity will be the topic Sunday night and the following Sunday at 7 p.m. in North Long Beach Methodist, 5600 Linden Ave., as one of the three subjects of the Conference study program for the year. Guests Sunday will be Rev. Don E. Lindblom, executive secretary of the Long Beach Area Council of Churches, and western representative of the Natl. Assn. of Council Executives, and Rev. Joseph Green, teacher of theology and scripture at Marymount College, and Mary and Joseph Reatreat House. Father Green has conducted seminars for the laity, nuns and priests in 30 states, was sent by the government in 1964 to Japan and Korea for talks to military chaplains, and is scheduled to go to Rome to help work out a program of renewal.

Concern over the use of drugs by youngsters is reflected in two different programs of discussion by experts and information for parents. Sunday, 7:30 p.m. in Los Altos Methodist, 5952 Willow St., Dr. J. Castille, psychiatrist at Orange County General Hospital, and Ken Welch, Long Beach police juvenile officer, will go into all aspects of the problem. On Monday, 7:30 p.m., Lakewood Community Methodist, 4300 Bellflower Blvd., will present a seminar on marijuana for adults only with four panelists: Rev. Dr. Paul Woudenberg, member of the County Narcotics Commission and local pastor; Dr. William Quinn, of the State Advisory Commission on Narcotics; Sgt. James Miller, Long Beach Police Narcotics Squad; Rev. Maynard Force, president of California Lutheran Bible College, will speak Sunday, 7 p.m. on events leading to the second coming of Christ, at Our Saviour's Lutheran, 370 Junipero Ave.

The justly famed International Children's Choir of Long Beach will be presented at a Winter Wonderland Banquet by the youth of Immanuel Baptist, 3215 E. Third St., next Saturday, Jan. 27, 6:30 p.m. with reservations (adults $1.75, children under 16, .75) necessary early this week. . . . Rev. Ralph Norman Halverson, minister of historic First Parish in Cambridge, Mass. where for generations Harvard held its commencements, will deliver the annual Minus Lecture on the Human City, held on the Pacific Coast for the first time, Thursday, 8 p.m. in The Unitarian Church, 5450 Atherton St., on "The Attraction of Cities and Our Rejection of Them." . . . Westmont College Chorale will present a concert Sunday, 7 p.m. in Trinity Presbyterian, 17th and Prospect, Tustin.

Halverson

Dr. John Whitcomb Jr., professor of Old Testament and director of post-graduate studies at Grace Theological Seminary, Winona Lake, Ind., will be guest speaker Sunday at Westminster Brethren, 14614 Magnolia Ave., speaking at 8 and 10 a.m. for the Sunday School, and the 9 and 11 a.m. services. He will also speak Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. in the church. . . . St. Gregory's Episcopal at 6201 E. Willow St. will hold an ecumenical open house for inspection of its new facility from 2-4 p.m. Sunday, aimed at hosting those of other faiths who have expressed interest in the church plant. . . . In observance of World Religion Day, sponsored here by the Baha'i Community, a film festival will be held Sunday, 2 p.m. in Torrance Recreation Center, 3341 Torrance Blvd.

The assembly will get its first opportunity to see the architect's drawings of the proposed new sanctuary building.

United Press International
At hand is the annual observance known as "A Week of Prayer for Christian Unity."

It's a time when Protestants and Catholics hold joint worship services, when Protestants speak before Catholic groups and vice versa. It's also an appropriate time to take a reading on the progress of the drive toward reunion called the ecumenical movement.

It is hard to comprehend the magnitude of historical events when one is in the midst of them. Within the past 10 years, the ecumenical movement has completely altered the climate of relationships between the different branches of the Christian family. It is, without much doubt, the most significant religious development since the Protestant Reformation 450 years ago.

A DECADE ago, it was news when Protestants and Catholics were nice to each other. Today, it's news if they're not. Attitudes and behavior have changed, on both sides, to a degree that continually amazes even those who have been most actively involved in the transition.

This does not mean that reunion of Christians in one big church is just around the corner.

Despite the fears of some traditionalists, the Roman Catholic Church is not "turning Protestant." It is engaged in a far-reaching reformation, initiated by Pope John XXIII and the Vatican Council, which is affecting many features of Catholicism which Protestants used to find particularly baffling or objectionable. But it remains distinctively Catholic in worship, theology, and organization.

On the other side, Protestants are beginning — but just beginning — to reclaim some of the Catholic portions of the total Christian heritage which were thrown out, along with the bath water, during the 16th century break away from Rome.

IN THE words of the late Fr. Gustav Weigel, a great Jesuit priest who was one of the pioneers of the ecumenical movement, Catholics and Protestants now seem to be on "converging courses." But the angle of convergence is such that it could take a very long time to come together. And no one now has even the glimmer of an idea what the reunited church might be like.

The key issue to be resolved is papal authority, which Catholics hold essential to the unity of the church, and Protestants regard as an intolerable weight on spiritual freedom.

MAYDAY! MAYDAY! NUDE BLONDE ON DECK

LONDON (UPI)—No doubt about it, there was something definitely familiar about that magazine photograph of a blonde lying nude on the deck of a cabin cruiser at sea.

Royden Granville Barstow, retired bank executive, blinked and looked again. No, it definitely wasn't the girl. Then it clicked.

"My goodness! That's my boat!" Barstow exclaimed. Having no recollection of ever seeing the young lady aboard his yacht, Starlight II, Barstow took the magazine to his lawyer.

The picture, his attorney told the court trying his libel suit against Mayfair magazine Friday, caused "great embarrassment, humiliation and distress."

The magazine's representative, tendering official apology, told the court the photos had been taken while Barstow was vacationing in France. Due to a misunderstanding, the photographer believed permission had been obtained. The magazine was ordered to pay court costs.

BOOK REVIEWS

A Fresh Scrutiny of Some Classics

THE TELLER IN THE TALE. By Louis D. Rubin Jr. University of Washington Press, $5.95.

Since the New Critics tried toppling all the literary totems back in the 30s it has been the accepted procedure to segregate writer from their novels — to consider works of art without consideration of biographical background.

However, sound arguments for putting the author back into the book have been presented in Wayne Booth's "The Rhetoric of Fiction."

Briefly, Booth contends that a novel is told by an "implied" author, who is created by the biographical author, and is therefore part of the formal experience of the novel.

Booth's theory has gained a number of converts including Louis D. Rubin Jr., author of "The Teller of the Tale," who applies Booth's concept to the works of Stendhal, Twain, James, Proust, Joyce and Mauriac.

Rubin's work is an excellent supplement to Booth. His knowledge of the primary works is genuine and his interpretations agreeable. Readers will find this book an asset to literary study. — Bill Wasserzieher.

VATICAN COUNCIL II. By Xavier Rynne. Farrar, Straus and Giroux, $10.

The four books of Xavier Rynne on the pathbreaking Council, realistic and never scanting those factors in the Roman Catholic Church which stood in the way of progress, must be regarded as indispensable for all future writers on the church. If one is to understand the split between the old and the new, he must read Rynne's work. This one-volume version, stripped only of lists of speakers, chronologies and documentary appendices of limited interest, retains for the reader the sense of witnessing a great turning point in religious history.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN INDONESIAN POETRY. By Burton Raffel. State University of New York Press, $7.

Fifty years ago, and before, Burton Raffel points out, there was of course, poetry, and there were poets, in the islands now known as Indonesia. But they wrote in Javanese, in Sundanese, in Balinese, in Minangkabau, or in one of the other languages of the archipelago.

Some wrote in Malay, on which bahasa Indonesia, the language now of Indonesian literature, government, the courts and schools, is based. The old poets were not Indonesians in the new national sense.

The poetry discussed in this book, is, then, a phenomenon of less than 50 years' growth. It is a flowering in which major literary figures have bloomed — Chairil Anwar, the best of them, is given an entire chapter, and a fascinating one it is. Author Raffel, translator of a volume of Anwar's poetry and editor of an anthology of modern Indonesian poetry, in this book is generous with examples of Indonesian poets who write in the new common language. It is an unusual poetry, blended of all that went into the making of the Indonesian heritage — influences Moslem, Hindu, Buddhist, Christian, Chinese, Dutch, Malay, and yet a poetry very distinctly individualistic.

PUSHKIN: DEATH OF A POET. By Walter N. Vickery. Indiana University Press, $5.75.

Russia's greatest poet, Pushkin, died in a duel with the Frenchman Georges D'Anthes, fought over the honor of the poet's beautiful wife. Because many facts were suppressed by the czarist authorities, wild theories spread about the deed; many believed Pushkin was the victim of political intrigue by court circles who used D'Anthes to dispose of him. Author Vickery refutes these theories on the basis of contemporary letters, diaries and other sources, and not only presents a lively account of the duel but also explores the complicated events before.

$300-Million Movie, TV Complex Planned

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A spokesman for Hollywood International Studios Inc., a new company, said Friday it plans a $300-million motion picture and television production complex.

Tim Sullivan, president, said a 1,500-acre site is sought in the San Fernando Valley.

The first phase envisages a $30-million, 20-stage complex with supporting office and auxiliary buildings, he said.

Sullivan identified himself as a onetime radio actor-singer, radio variety show producer, stage producer in New York and elsewhere and now independent film producer.

PHOENIX (UPI)—A Phoenix firm has announced plans to build the first modern motion picture studio in the Southwest near Carefree, Ariz.

F. M. McCown, president of Southwestern Research and General Investment Co., announced plans to build the $2-million studio on 160 acres 1½ miles south of Carefree. He said the facility would be completed by June and leased to movie studios.

It will have two stages 15-25 feet underground and a western street which "can be converted to match the architecture of any western or southwestern town dated between 1870 and 1895," McCown said.

He said the facility would be named Graham Studio after stuntman Fred Graham, who will supervise the project.

The firm organized Cine Logistics Corp. as a subsidiary corporation to own and operate the facility.

Executives Named

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of Warner Bros. Seven Arts Ltd. have named Eliot Hyman chairman and chief executive officer and Benjamin Kalmenon president. The board also elected Hyman chairman of the executive committee.

Festival Players' Concert a Delight

By DANIEL CARIAGA
Music Critic

A chamber concert as fascinating on the ear as it was on paper was the Festival Players of California's program Thursday night in the Long Beach Museum of Art.

Music by Karl Stamitz, Joseph Kreutzer, Gian Francesco Malipiero, Ernest Hughes and Kenneth Lowman was offered by the Los Angeles-based quintet — violin, Irving Katz; viola, Abraham Weiss; oboe, Doye Reutter; bassoon, Kenneth Lowman and guitar, Vito Mumolo.

One seldom hears such a large proportion of hand-some music on an unfamiliar program. Happily, for this seventh event in the 15th consecutive year of chamber concerts in the museum, the audience present overflowed available seating. (At a time when our city is willing to spend fortunes on boat-speculation, it seems odd our Art Museum — or, for that matter, our great Public Library — must make do with limited space).

A QUARTET in D Major for oboe, violin, viola and bassoon, by Stamitz, opened the proceedings most pleasantly, followed by Kreutzer's A Major Trio for violin, viola and guitar, Opus 16.

Exactly which Kreutzer Joseph was is a good question. If he was not a largely unknown writer presently unlisted in standard references, he might have been the German composer (Konradin K., 1780-1849) or the French violinist (Ro-dolphe K., 1766-1831) using a disguise. In any case, his Trio (1820) is a small delight, if a bit unfair to the guitar, which the composer used mostly to accompany the other instruments.

LOWMAN, the ensemble's music director and bassoonist, was represented by a Trio and a Quintet. His style may be described as contemporary electric; the writing is terse, unpeddled and instrumentally grateful, and the music falls on the ear most attractively. Incidentally, Long Beach will hear more of his music come Jan. 29, when students at Sutter Elementary and Hughes Junior High Schools see the Players' production of "Treasure of the Tamarack."

High point of the performance was Malipiero's all too brief "Epodi e Giambi" (Epode and Iambus, 1932) for four instruments, given a polished reading worthy of its composer. Malipiero's music these days seems unjustly neglected, a condition we hope is only temporary.

Lew Set to Raise the Roof

By LOEL SCHRADER
Staff Writer

Houston in 'Eye' of Hurricane

HOUSTON — Thanks to the miracles of modern medicine, UCLA and Houston will be eyeball-to-eyeball tonight before 55,000 in the surreal setting of the Astrodome.

Doctors examined the damaged left eye of the Bruins' Lew Alcindor Friday, permitted the 7-foot-1½ center to fly to Houston and virtually gave final approval to his participation in basketball's game of the (check one) year (), decade (), century ().

That means that Alcindor, the nation's player of the year for the 1966-67 season, will be ready for his long-anticipated rematch with Elvin Hayes, the Dizzy Dean of college basketball. UCLA coach John Wooden threw in one note of caution.

"Lew wasn't given final permission to play by his physician," said Wooden. "The doctor will fly into Houston tomorrow morning (Saturday) for a final check."

"I'll say this, however — I'm very optimistic about Lew's chances of playing."

Alcindor and the Bruins practiced for about an hour in the vast Astrodome, which is expected to be brimming with Houston fanatics when the teams square off at 6 p.m. (PST) tonight. A 150-station television network, including Los Angeles Channel 5, will carry the game to such faraway places as Fairbanks, Alaska.

The lighting arrangement

SATURDAY Sports

at the Astrodome is not ideal for basketball. Several UCLA players complained about the glare.

Wooden, however, pointed out that "both teams have to play under the same conditions."

Wooden appeared relaxed. Craning his neck to take in the full range of the Astrodome, the Bruin coach recalled that he had participated in a high school basketball tournament in Indianapolis at a place called "Cow Barn."

"This place will hold a little hay, too," he cracked. "It also will hold the fate of the nation's No. 1 and No. 2 basketball teams, both unbeaten going into this game and both spoiling for a rematch of their meeting in the NCAA semifinals at Louisville last year.

Wooden called UCLA's 73-58 victory over Houston "our poorest performance of the season." Houston, particularly the 6-foot-8 Hayes, has been pointing for this game since the season began.

UCLA is 13-0 this season and will be seeking its 48th consecutive victory, only 12 shy of San Francisco's collegiate record of 60.

Houston is 16-0, and has gone 48 games at home without a defeat.

Wooden confessed he'd rather play the Cougars at the Astrodome than in Houston's regular home court, Delmar Gym.

"I don't think there will be as much noise here as there would be in a small gym," he said.

UCLA has picked up rebounding strength from a year ago, when it broke even with the Cougars. But Wooden doesn't think rebounding will be the key to victory tonight.

"I've checked statistics and found that we lose more games when we've been outshot than when we've been outrebounded," he said.

By Friday night, 53,000 tickets had been sold, including 4,000 standing-room tickets.

"If we had the seats, we could have sold at least 75,000," said Astrodome ticket manager Dick McDowell. "As it is, I expect we'll sell a couple thousand more standing-room tickets."

Wooden would not reveal which two of his three top forwards would start the game, but it seems certain Edgar Lacey will be one of them. Two days ago, Wooden designated Lacey as Hayes' watchdog.

"If Guy Lewis (Houston coach) will tell me whether he's going to play a zone or man-to-man, I'll tell you who will start," Wooden told the huge press corps already assembled in Houston. "If it's a zone, Shackelford will start." Wooden didn't finish the answer, but Mike Lynn probably will open at the other forward spot if Houston utilizes a man-to-man defense.

If the crowd reaches 55,000, it will be a record paying audience for a basketball game. The Harlem Globetrotters drew 75,000 in Berlin in 1951, but it was a non-paying crowd which had gathered for an anti-Communist rally. Hayes issued a final warning to the Bruins. "I've got a new shot that I haven't had to use yet," he said. "But since Alcindor is such a fine defensive player, I may have to try it against UCLA."

In the space city of Houston, this could only be a "cosmic" shot.

Matson, Boston, Smith Lose

By JOHN DIXON

It was an upset when there wasn't an upset as Olympic year opened in the Southland Friday night.

Those fellows with asterisks following their names denoting records, have also ran after their names today. The new breed has sprung like Dragon seed from the soil.

Ralph Boston — Randy Matson — Dave Patrick — Bob Seagren — Tommie Smith — all favorites to win medals in Mexico City, were all beaten Friday in the L.A. Invitational at the Sports Arena. Most badly beaten.

Major surprise of the night, and perhaps of the track year, was Matson's defeat in the shotput.

World record holder at 71 feet, 5½ inches, the only man to propel the 16-pound grenade beyond 70 feet, Matson not only didn't win, he didn't qualify for the finals.

Upset When Not an Upset—Only Earl Maintains Form

His best throw was 60-4. "The other two just slipped," explained the 6-7, 260-pounder. "I've been lifting weights, haven't thrown much."

The victor was George Woods, a 200-pound muscle mass representing the Long Beach Pacific Coast Club Track and Field Assn.

Woods, who learned his shotputting at Southern Illinois, had a series of 66-5½, 65-10, 60-6, 64-6½ and two fouls.

His former pinnacle was 64-8, on Jan. 5. "My form wasn't good, but it was better," puffed Woods. "I had good snap. I hope to become the second man to pass 70 feet."

Woods was voted athlete of the meet.

Boston, world long jump record holder at 27-4¾, was almost a yardstick short at 24-10½, good only for second place behind Bob Beamon's 26-1¾.

Patrick, the only man to whip Jim Ryun last season, was drubbed by Preston Dabbs of the Pacific Coast Club at 1,000 yards.

Patrick wishes the race was only 900 yards. Davis, running comfortably near the lead all the way, jumped Patrick 100 yards to glory, opened daylight and was two yards in front at the tape.

Davis was stopwatched at 2:09.2, Patrick 2:10.3.

Seagren, indoor pole vault record holder at 17-3, navigated only 16-6. So did Erkki Mustakari of Finland, but he did it with fewer misses. John Vaughn of UCLA was third at 16-0.

Smith, the mellifluous multi-record holder from San Jose State, was a distant third in the 440, far behind winner Jim Kemp of the PCC, 49.5, and runner-up Vince Matthews, 49.9.

Outstanding race was the two-mile, a six-man race for three-quarters of a mile, a three-man tussle until George Young broke it open as surely as a guillotine at the three-quarters pole.

Kerry Pearce of Australia set the tempo until Young, a two-time U.S. Olympian in the steeplechase, took his foot off the brake. Young crushed an outstanding international field with a 61.7 lap.

Young's 8:39.4 bettered his own meet mark of 8:44½. Pearce was second 30 yards to the rear, in 8:47.6, with George Scott of Australia next in 8:53.4.

Perhaps the earliest victory was achieved by Earl McCullough, the famous football player from USC.

McCullough, a Poly high, Long Beach City College graduate, led by a yard at the first hurdle and by three at the 60-yard finish line — a world record for a short race.

His time was 7.0, equalling the meet and Arena records.

Summaries, C-2

ord. Erb Hall was second in 7.3.

"It wasn't one of my better starts," said McCullough. "I touched one hurdle, finished strong. I've had only one full workout since football season."

World record sprinter Charlie Greene appeared to have the 60 bagged after a lightning launch, but John Carlos put a hole in the bag with a big finish and earned a deadheat in 6.1.

O. J. Simpson of USC appeared to be outclassed as badly as Indiana, but a strong start carried him to third in 6.2.

"It was the best start of my life," pointed out the Trojan Rose Bowl star. "A little finish and I'll be ready. I've had only two track workouts since football season."

The crowd of 10,182 saved its biggest cheers for Ulf Hoegberg of Sweden, whose only competition was the clock in the mile.

The clock won. Hoegberg was far ahead of a four-minute mile pace with quarters of 55.5 and 62.7, but final 440s of 61.4 and 64.1 stopped a courageous attempt. Marty Liquori was second in 4:07.5.

Closest event was the high jump. Ed Caruthers of the PCC won at seven feet. Otis Burrell was second and John Rambo of the PCC third at the same height on the miss count-back.

It was a good getaway for Long Beach athletes. Sam Gipson of Long Beach City College was a surprise second in the triple jump at 49.5 behind Charles Craig's 52-6½, while the new PCC won a pocketful of medals.

In the 1,000, Davis won his division, while Darnell Mitchell (2:11.8), Darryl Taylor (2:12.2) and Pete Dougherty (2:15.6) swept the win-place-show in the second division.

Kings Chase N.Y. Out of Forum, 5-2

By RICH ROBERTS

It's a big jump for a little man, but Howie Menard looks like he's in the National Hockey League to stay.

The 5-foot-6, 160-pound hustler from the Kings' Springfield farm club scored his first two NHL goals and assisted on two others Friday night when the purple gang chased the New York Rangers out of the Forum, 5-2.

His linemates, Howie Hughes and Doug Robinson, also scored after Lowell MacDonald set off a second-period explosion.

The Kings have now beaten every club in the league and again stand even against the old clubs with 7 wins and 7 losses with a 1-2 mark against the Rangers.

Also, their recently reclaimed hold on second-place stands more secure with a three-point cushion against the pack.

The Rangers came into town hot with only one loss in their last 11 games, but goalie Terry Sawchuk, playing his sixth full game in a row, held them off until the guns got going.

Menard totally delighted the 11,740 fans. Playing only his third game in the big league, he faced off to the big league's rough Arnie Brown in a high-slicking match in the first period, then scored a goal in each of the next two periods. "You just close your eyes that's the only way," he said, trying to sound casual in his excitement. "It was a big win. I'm very happy, especially to do it against one of the old clubs."

Despite his performance Menard claims he isn't a goal scorer.

"I might get the occasional garbage goal, but mainly I'll try to feed How-puck and checks right along with them."

Kelly added another note: "Philadelphia better watch out. We'll be coming."

Menard's second goal in the last period took some heat off Sawchuk, who was very sharp but admitted, "I'm tired tonight. Two games back-to-back make the difference."

The first period didn't lack for action but the scoring didn't start until the second — and how:

"The Kings roared out to a 3-0 lead in the first nine minutes. MacDonald played Jimmy Anderson's rebound while goalie Ed Giacomin was on his belly trying to grab the jumping puck."

Then Hughes picked one out of a scramble and minutes later Menard flashed his first red light in the NHL, when he and Robinson caught Ranger defenseman Larry Hillman up-ice. Menard faked a pass to Robinson and defenseman Jim Neilson went for it, then Howie put a 25-foot sizzler past Giacomin.

Reg Fleming kept the Rangers within range on a dastardly clever play. New York's bad guy, only seconds out of the penalty box, tripped Jim Murray, took the rebounding puck off the boards and broke in alone on Sawchuk.

Robinson, who has been missing by silly millimeters since coming up from Springfield, restored the three-goal edge at 4-1 when he played the second rebound off shots by Menard and Hughes, his first King goal.

Phil Goyette's tap-in behind a fallen Sawchuk got the Rangers back to 4-2 at the end of the second period.

'I INTEND TO BUILD WINNING HABIT' 49ers End Hunt, Hire Nolan

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The title-starved San Francisco 49ers Friday hired Dick Nolan as head coach, describing him as a man who has been a winner all his life.

Nolan, 35, for the past six years defensive coach of the Dallas Cowboys, gets a five-year contract and complete authority over the team which has never won a championship in its 18 years in the National Football League. Financial terms were not disclosed.

He succeeds Jack Chis-lensen, who was fired Dec. 20 after a 7-7 season.

Introduced to a crowded news conference by Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers, Nolan said, "I intend to build the team to a winning pattern and into a contender."

"Habit is a strong thing. You have to have a winning way; winning becomes a habit."

Spadia said he had interviewed seven or eight men, both college and pro coaches, but that Nolan was the only one to whom he offered the job. He said the offer was made late Thursday. Spadia said he had heard from 20 or 30 others who were interested in the job.

Spadia said Nolan, "was a winner at Maryland with the national collegiate championship team of 1953, he was a winner with the New York Giants as a player, and he has had a great hand in coaching the Cowboys to two consecutive Eastern Conference championships."

"I am very hopeful that his streak won't be broken."

As a player, Nolan was a defensive back. As a coach he has been a defensive specialist. He made it clear that he intended to emphasize a strong defense for the 49ers.

"You can rate a defense by points scored against it and by turnovers, times they got the ball," said Nolan. "In turnovers last season the 49ers were no higher than 10th. Top teams got the ball a lot oftener."

A native of White Plains, N.Y. Nolan is married and the father of six children.

Marr Retains Lead — Casper's 65 Sets Mark

NAPA, (UPI) — Regaining the touch which won him the Professional Golfers

Assn. championship in 1955, Dave Marr added a 69 Friday to his opening 68 to lead at the midway point in the $125,000 Kaiser International Open Golf Tournament with 137.

He needed the seven-under-par score to stay ahead of Kermit Zarley and George Archer, who finished a stroke behind with 67 and 68, respectively, for 138.

Two-time U.S. Open champion Billy Casper also caught fire with a record seven-under-par 65 over the Silverado Country Club's new North Course for a 140 total after 36 holes.

"I'm trying harder, concentrating more," declared the 34-year-old Marr, who learned his golf in Houston, lives in Larchmont, N.Y., and plays out of Litchfield Park, Ariz.

He dropped birdie putts of three feet at the eighth hole, 25 at the 11th, 12 at the 14th and four at the 17th.

He took only one bogey when he missed the green at the 13th.

Casper was the star of the day. After Thursday's 75, including a birdie in the dark on the final hole, Billy whipped back with his 65, including eight birdies. His putts included one of 30 feet and another of 25.

He needed only 26 putts on a day which saw him go over par only once.

Zarley turned in cards with two sub-par rounds on a single day. One of 39 golfers left on the course when darkness halted Thursday's play, the bespectacled 26-year-old from Seattle, Wash., finished his first round early Friday with a 71, then shot his 67.

Among those out were Bob Duden, who couldn't use his pendulum putter under the new golf rules and took a 149; former National Amateur champions Harvie Ward, who also had 149, and Deane Beman, who carded 153; Mike Sou-chak, also at 153; and Art Wall and Frank Beard each at 154.

Arnold Palmer put a 73 with his opening 70 to remain with 30 golfers at 143.

Lynn Hoping to Shackle Houston Again

HOUSTON — Lynn Shackelford flicked an arching 20-footer toward the basket and the nets barely rippled as the ball passed through.

It was obvious the cavernous environs of the Astrodome had not dulled the fine hone of Shackelford's shooting edge.

"I hope they play a zone again," said the 6-5 junior forward from Burbank. "We handled it pretty well last year."

Shackelford could have changed the "we" to "I," for it was his devastating outside shooting that destroyed Houston's defensive strategy in the semifinals of the national collegiate tourney in Louisville last year.

The Cougars employed a sagging zone, dropping two players back on the Bruins' Lew Alcindor whenever the ball came to the side of the lane on which Alcindor was stationed. That let Shackelford, a 48 per cent shooter, gun away from medium and long range.

Shackelford had the huge crowd gasping as he tossed in 11 of 19 shots and supplied the points that pulled UCLA away to a comfortable lead in the first half. "Shackelford is too good a shooter to leave open," Bruin coach John Wooden pointed out after the game.

NCAA Hero Haunts Cougars

As he fired away at the practice in Friday's workout at the Astrodome, Shackelford recalled those moments of a year ago.

"Elvin Hayes and Melvin Bell dropped back on Alcindor, making it virtually impossible for me to get the ball into Lew," he recalled.

"Fortunately, I had the hot hand."

The 22 points matched his 1966-67 season high, proof that Shackelford does well under the pressure of big games.

"I don't get excited," he said. "And I don't think playing here at the Astrodome can be as bad as playing at Purdue and Cal. The noise was so bad at those places you couldn't talk to anyone and be understood."

Shackelford is averaging 11.3 points per game, close to his level of a year ago, despite sharing more playing time with returning veterans Mike Lynn and Edgar Lacey.

"Frankly, I never expected to start any games or play as much as I have," he said. "I just took it for granted that Lynn and Lacey would move into the starting team. They are both great players."

Shackelford doesn't believe the Bruins have played up to their potential in any of their 13 games.

"We're winning by large margins, but we haven't played well together," he said. "Last year, I thought we were unbeatable, especially after we got by the USC stall game."

"Now, I don't know. The Purdue game showed many of us that some team with a hot night could beat us."

The Bruins' 47-game winning streak has put no detectable strain on the Bruins, according to Shackelford.

"Sure, it would be nice to break San Francisco's 60-game streak," he said. "But we don't think about it. If we lose a game, we won't be sorry because a winning streak has been broken. We'll be sorry because we'll know we lost a game we should have won."

As he flicked another shot toward the basket, Shackelford added:

"With the talent we have, there's no real reason to lose."

NEW GAME SHOW

Monroe, Press In: To Tell the Truth

Baltimore Bullet rookie sensation Earl Monroe is playing his own game of verbal hopscotch. The 6-3, 23-year-old guard, who Wednesday stated that he would refuse military induction and then Thursday denied he had made any such accusation, is fast becoming an object of contempt with the Baltimore press.

In a story by Charles Rayman of the Baltimore

SPORTS BEAT

SUN, Monroe said he would not enter the U.S. Army, but would take the alternate measure, namely jail. It was a different story Thursday.

"I was in another world when I said anything. I don't remember saying it like that," said Monroe.

"Everything Monroe was quoted as saying in Rayman's article... about refusing to serve in the military is true," said Evening Sun sports editor Bill Tanton. "I don't for a moment buy the Bullets' claim that the whole incident was a 'complete misunderstanding,'" said Tanton.

"If there is any misunderstanding at all, it is in the confused mind of Mr. Monroe," barked Tanton.

"THE A's need and want support," said Charles Finley, owner of the Oakland Athletics which made a 2,000-mile exodus from Kansas City for the 1968 season.

Charlie's answer to the dilemma? Never one to be frugal, Finley plans a blanket circulation campaign by mailing 1.4 million brochures to homes within a 50-mile radius at a cost in excess of $200,000.

HEISMAN TROPHY winner Gary Beban Friday was named the recipient of the first Dolly Cohen Trophy to be awarded by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

DON WADE, an assistant coach at Clemson University, was hired Friday as head football coach at Tennessee Tech. Former St. Louis Cardinal great Joe Medwick has been named full-time minor league batting instructor for the Cardinals. Veteran baseball announcer Jimmy Dudley was fired by the Cleveland Indians. John Pont of Indiana will coach the East and Dee Andros of Oregon State will direct the West in the Coaches All-America football game June 28. The bout between heavyweights Joe Frazier and Buster Mathis for the New York version of the title and the middleweight championship between Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti of Italy on March 4 will be televised via closed circuit. Promoters in Carson City, Nev. plan to match heavyweights Sonny Liston and Bill McMurray Feb. 25 in Reno.

POND OF TROUBLE

Bob Duden found trouble in the water fronting 11th green and after taking three swipes without getting ball to stick on dry land, the Portland pro picked up only to discover it wasn't his ball. After ruling by PGA official, Duden finally dropped behind the pond. He finished hole with double bogey five and wound up shooting 73 in second round of Kaiser Open at Napa.

ONE GAME WIN STREAK ON LINE

Lakers: First S.F., Then World

By DOUG IVES

On the infrequent occasions when the Lakers have gained momentum in the past two seasons, the San Francisco Warriors have come along and short-circuited them.

Coming off an impressive win over Philadelphia on Wednesday, the Lakers think they can lick the world. The question is, though, can they beat the Warriors?

Since the start of the 1966-67 campaign, the Bay Area has been downright unfriendly, winning 12 of 15 games, including four one-pointers and three in a row in the playoffs.

Tonight (8 p.m.), the Warriors visit the Forum in the throes of a losing streak; one that, if extended another game, might threaten their hold on second place in the Western Division. Presently, their lead over the third-place Lakers is five games.

The last time these rivals met, the Lakers had just regained full strength, while the Warriors were playing without All-Star guard Jim King. Ironically, the same situation may prevail tonight.

Archie Clark is due back in the Lakers starting lineup, giving them a full complement of players, but King is doubtful, having re-injured the groin muscle that sidelined him 15 games. He was, strangely, to see Laker physician Dr. Robert Kerlan prior to tonight's game for a checkup.

Also, Nate Thurmond has been bothered by his chronic back pain, and the Warriors are just another team without him.

With Jerry West back in full throttle, Elgin Baylor properly rested and newcomers Ervin Mueller and Fred Crawford giving them a lift, the Lakers are much more formidable.

LEO DUROCHER
'Give Gibson $100,000'

actually give Holtzman. Leo certainly would have some choice comment on that.

Durocher Alive and Talking — Offers Cards Lip Service

By MILT RICHMAN

NEW YORK (UPI) — I was a little worried there for awhile.

Nearly two months had gone by and there wasn't any word from Leo Durocher. Not a word. I thought something happened to him. Something serious. He had me real worried.

That's why I'm so glad he broke radio silence the other day. Good old Leo! When he finally comes through he comes through beautifully. Better than anybody you ever saw. The Green Bay Packers, Raquel Welch or Anna Maria Alberghetti. The site Leo picked for re-entry was Omaha, Neb., a city where the people are more hospitable than in most other places, where youngest one of the best steaks in the country and where Bob Gibson, the Cardinals' World Series hero, was born, raised and now lives.

Leo was attending a banquet there and Gibson was one of the honored guests.

There are two things you have to say about the dandy little manager of the Chicago Cubs. One, he's always thinking. And two, he's one of baseball's biggest spenders.

Leo has only one slight drawback. He spends his money or yours the same way. Lavishly. At times even recklessly. He always figured it cost only two bits more to go first class, and even if he did that figuring in pre-inflation days, Leo still goes first class or he doesn't go at all.

Anyway, when it came time to stand up in Omaha and say a few words, Leo had them all picked out.

He told his audience he has a tendency for saying "the wrong things at the right time" and a statement like that makes you wonder whatever in the world gave him that idea?

Leo then looked over at Gibson seated at the speaker's table and said:

"I hear you're asking for $100,000. If they don't give it to you, they're crazy. You are worth all of that."

See that! Turns out Leo Durocher is alive and isn't hiding out in Argentina. All you gotta do is give him a little time and you'll hear from him. Guaranteed. He's never missed yet.

The point here isn't whether Bob Gibson should get $100,000 or even $200,000 from the Cardinals.

What is the point is that Leo stuck his nose in something which isn't any of his business. It's not anything that's going to change the general shape of the world, or even baseball, because Leo Durocher will always be Leo Durocher and there's something about him that makes you accept him no matter what he says.

But for a guy who's always thinking, he should keep in mind how random, off-the-cuff statements can do a great deal of damage. He should remember how much it bothered him when one of his best friends said the parade had passed him by as a manager before he got the job with the Cubs. The remark hurt Leo a lot at the time.

Basically, there's nothing un-American about Leo Durocher getting up at a banquet and saying Bob Gibson ought to get $100,000.

By the same token, there's nothing wrong with someone from another club saying the Cubs ought to pay Kenny Holtzman $100,000, and since Leo likes the young lefty so much, he should make up from his own pocket the difference between 100 grand and what the Cubs

JERRY NEEDS $71 MILLION IN 3 MONTHS

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Jerry Wolman has three months to pull off a miracle, but his creditors don't think he can do it.

Joseph Kaiser, a federal bankruptcy referee, granted the 40-year-old owner of the Philadelphia Eagles until April 22 to work out a plan to pay off $71.9 million in debts and avoid bankruptcy.

Kaiser said it would be a "major miracle" if it could be done. Kaiser indicated he may force Wolman to sell the National Football League team and a lawyer for the Morgan Guaranty Trust Company, which holds a lien on the stock of the Eagles, said the bank is almost certain to foreclose.

BANKAMERICA and MASTER CHARGE

Damascus May Run Alone—6 Tentative

Intimidating Damascus drew only six challengers for today's $50,000-added Santa Anita Stakes at Santa Anita and there was apprehension that only three would be left by post time.

Ruken, Jungle Road, River, Field Master, Most Host and Election Day were entered to oppose Damascus, Horse of the Year for 1967.

Ruken and Election Day, as well as Jungle Road, may seek riches in next week's feature which finds Damascus resting.

The San Fernando Stakes is a 1 1/4 mile test, a distance over which Damascus has raced successfully four out of four times. The bay son of Sword Dancer will carry high weight of 126 pounds, which should pose no problem.

Jockey Bill Shoemaker, Damascus' regular rider, will be aboard. Damascus' lifetime money earnings now total $871,656. The return for the San Fernando would add $34,950 from a gross purse of $57,450—if all seven start.

Mrs. Edith W. Bancroft's famous colt tucked away all opposition in the recent Malibu Stakes in his debut at Santa Anita. After the San Fernando, Damascus is programmed to run in the $100,000-added Charles H. Strub Stakes Feb. 3, the last of the three stakes that lured him west.

The San Fernando will be run as the sixth race instead of the usual eighth. Sunny weather and a fast track were forecast, and the lure of Damascus is expected to entice a crowd of 50,000 to the plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert W. Martin's classy Rising Market, runner-up to mighty Damascus in the Malibu, repulsed the stretch-long bid of Title Game to win the featured $10,000 Ventura Purse Friday.

Rising Market, who was held out of today's San Fernando Stakes and another encounter with Damascus, had a half-length advantage at the wire, zipping the six furlongs in a swift 1:09 1/5 under jockey Laffit Pincay, Jr.

Title Game, well-backed at 9-5 as compared to favored Rising Market at 3-5, hung on well to finish one length ahead of Sharp Decline, with Tilttable fourth in the band of nine sprinters.

Rising Market paid $3.60, $2.20 and $2.40. Title Game, who was ridden by Bill Shoemaker, paid $2.40 and $2.60 and Sharp Decline returned $4.80.

Jockeys Bill Mahorney and Walter Blum each drew five-day suspensions, effective next Tuesday, for incidents which developed in Thursday's first race at Santa Anita.

13 Bloom in Hibiscus

HIALEAH (UPI) — Hialeah begins the tuneup of Derby age horses today, presenting the $25,000-added Hibiscus Stakes with a cast of 13 three-year-olds headed by Thomas Leclair's Subpet.

Subpet was entered Friday as high weight for the seven-furlong Hibiscus, the first of three major stakes pointing to the $100,000-added Flamingo Stakes March 2. The colt will carry 122 pounds.

Veteran Ray Broussard will ride the Leclair color bearer that recently added the City of Miami Beach handicap at Tropical Park to 1967 victories in the Sapping and Great American Stakes.

Subpet, slightly favored at 5-2, is expected to draw sharp opposition from such as Isidor Beiber's Wise Exchange, M. G. Phipps' Master Bold and Calumet Farm's Forward Pass.

These three will carry 117 pounds each.

Bob Ussery will ride Wise Exchange and Don Brumfield will handle Forward Pass.
